

THE SEASON'S FRESHEST FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

NEW CROP FLORIDA

ORANGES Doz. 25c

PERSONAL

A&P sales to customers have gone up through all the difficult months of 1930. Because, when economy must be practiced, A&P Stores make savings easy.

Low prices at A&P stores, like interest on deposits in sound savings banks, can be depended upon, rain or shine.

Whitehouse Evaporated MILK 3 Small Cans 10c

Campbell's Tomato SOUP 2 Cans for 15c

All Pork—Country SAUSAGE Lb. 29c

Wilson's Hockless PICNIC HAMS Lb. 19c

Sliced Sugar-Cured Breakfast BACON Lb. 29c

Asparagus Tips

Peaches

Snowdrift 3

New York State—Crisp, Well-Bleached CELERY TALL STALK 5c

POTATOES	U. S. NO. 1 COBBERS	5 LBS.	15c
BANANAS	Large, Ripe	POUND	4c
CUCUMBERS	Tender, Crisp	EACH	2c
CAULIFLOWER	Snowball	LB.	12c
BEETS	Large Bunch		7c
CARROTS	Large Bunch		7c
SNAP BEANS	Tender, Crisp	LB.	5c

Georgia Grown Kiln Dried YAMS 5 Lbs. 12c

New Crop—Florida GRAPEFRUIT Each 5c

APPLES

Large Size Western	Fancy Jersey	GRIMES' GOLDEN
JONATHAN	MEDIUM	LARGE
Doz.	2 Doz. 15c	2 Doz. 25c

Del Monte No. 1 Square Can 29c

IONA—Dessert Halves No. 2½ CAN 17c

POUND CAN 47c

FLOUR SALE

BALLARD'S—GOLD MEDAL—
POSTEL OR SUNNYFIELD

YOUR CHOICE

24 POUND BAG 95c

Jewel Shortening 2 Lb. Carton 21c

Pork & Beans 2 16-oz. Cans 15c

Grapejuice A&P PINT 15c A&P QUART 29c

IN OUR MEAT MARKETS

Home-Dressed HENS 2 to 3-Lb. Average Lb. 28c

Home-Dressed FRYERS All Sizes Lb. 35c

Long Island DUCKS Lb. 27c

Morell's Pride—Half or Whole HAMS Pound 24½c

Wilson's Hockless PICNIC HAMS Lb. 19c

Fancy Beef POT ROAST Lb. 17c

Chuck Roast Lb. 19c

Fresh Shoulder PORK ROAST Lb. 18c

VEAL Stew Meat Lb. 12c

VEAL Chuck Roast Lb. 18c

VEAL Rib Chops Lb. 25c

Sliced, Sugar-Cured Breakfast BACON Pound 29c

Iona Maryland Red-Ripe TOMATOES 3 No. 2 Cans 25c

Sophie Mae PEANUT BRITTLE Pkg. 9c

Sultana—Assorted Flavors JAM 15-oz. Jar 19c

Sultana—Assorted Flavors JAM 43-oz. Jar 43c

A&P Shredded COCONUT 2 6-oz. Cartons 15c

Baby or Large LIMA BEANS 2 Lbs. 25c

Gelatin Dessert SPARKLE 2 Pkgs. 15c

Iona, Tender, Sweet PEAS 2 No. 2 Cans 19c

Star Washing POWDER Pkg. 3c

PERKISON'S CORN MEAL

19c 16-oz. Bag 37c

N. B. C. Robena or Starlight Coconut Favorites CRACKERS Lb. 27c

Sun-Sweet PRUNES 2 Lb. CARTON 25c

Breakfast Cereal WHEATENA Pkg. 23c

C H E E S E

New York State American

LB. 38c Lb. 23c

INVESTMENT FIRMS

BUYING UP STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Dow Jones & Company says that in the past ten days there has been a substantial amount of buying of stocks by investment companies, which may be between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000.

Purchases by individual companies, omitting the fixed investment trusts, ranged up to eight figures, according to their individual resources. In some instances certain securities were marketed to augment funds available for investment where management felt that they might switch holdings profitably.

Not all investment trusts were buying stock, as cases were reported where stockholdings were liquidated in part and the proceeds held in the treasury.

Major Sentenced.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Major Thomas H. Gideon, of Springfield, today was sentenced to serve two years in federal penitentiary in Marion, Ill. Gideon, 41, was fined $10,000 on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. He was found guilty by a federal court jury last Monday. The sentence is the maximum.

Davis Sea Food Market

107 BROAD ST., S. W.

SATURDAY SPECIALS'

FURE LARD	13c
ALL DAY
LARD—COMPOUND,	10c
ALL DAY
BEEF BUMP
ROAST	15c
BEEF POT ROAST,
NO BONES	12c
ROUND
BEEF ROAST	16½c
ROUND AND
LOIN STEAK, LB.	20c
HOMED DRESSED
HENS	24½c
FRESH
PICNIC HAMS	15c
BOILING
BACON	13½c
BEST STEAKER
MEAT	17c
CROAKER
FISH	10c
PIG
HAMS	20c

Harry Collins

20 N. Broad Street
Where Low Prices Originate

PURE LARD... 13½c

BEEF ROAST... 15½c

3 LBS. CENTER CUT HAM... $1

PORK SHOULDERS 15½c

SALT MEAT... 13½c

BROAD STREET MARKET

112 BROAD ST., S. W.

HOME-DRESSED HENS	22c
FRESH PIG BACKBONE	17½c
FRESH PIG SIDES	13c
FRESH PIG SHOULDER	14c
FRESH LION FORE CHOPS, LB.	16c
COMPOUND LARD, LB.	10c
NO. 8 SWIFT'S JEWEL LARD, LB.	9c
FRESH SPARERIBS, LB.	13c
NUT OLEO, LB.	11c
SLICED, CENTER CUT HAM, 3 LBS.	21c
SMALL SUGAR-CURED PICNIC HAMS, LB.	14c
FRESH YARD EGGS	17c
10 LBS. SUGAR, CLOTH BAG	85c
FULL CREAM CHEESE, LB.	11c
CHOICE CUT WESTERN BEEF ROAST	12½c

SATURDAY,

OCTOBER

18th

IS

“SWEETEST DAY”

And in view of this, we would like to remind you of our unusually low price of—

3 for 10c

ON ALL REGULAR FIVE-CENT SIZES OF POPULAR CANDY

TEA

Nectar, 2-oz. 7½c

Nectar, 4-oz. 15c

Nectar, 8-oz. 27c

Nectar Tea Balls, pkg. 15c

Grandmother's, 4-oz. 23c

Our Own Blend, ½-lb. 23c

A&P

Ammonia

10-oz. Bottle

32-oz. Bottle

19c

Ivory

Snow 2 Pkgs.

Whitehouse Pure Cider

Vinegar Qt.

A&P Apple

Sauce 2 No. 2 Cans

Iona String Beans

No. 2 Can

Peanut Butter

Pacific Bulk 2 Lbs.

Silverbrook Print or A&P Tub

Butter Lb.

45c

Black Eye Peas, Pinto or Great Northern

BEANS

3 LBS.

25c

Navy Beans 2 Lbs. 25c

This message is directed only to those who have never enjoyed the deliciousness of our bread. Try this bread for the first time and a real thrill awaits you in its golden, crispy crust, in the fine, velvety texture of its body, in its wonder taste. There's a treat ahead of you.

GRANDMOTHER'S SANDWICH LOAF

Net Weight 1¼ Lbs. Or More

EACH

9c

PAN LOAF 16-oz. 7c

TEA ROLLS Doz. 8c

WHOLE WHEAT

18-oz. Loaf 10c

AND A SPECIAL SANDWICH LOAF

PERFECT TOAST

STANDARD FOR EVERY MEAL

AND A SPECIAL SANDWICH LOAF

Back to Your Ovens

BY JESSIE MARIE DeBOTH

The ovens which have had such a vacation during warm weather, are now beginning to perk up and claim attention. There is no denying that oven cooking develops food flavors with better results and less attention than surface methods. Odors of meal preparation, however, are delicious to hungry mortals, have an annoying

No Failures!

when a

CANNON'S CAN CLAMPholds the can while making MAYONNAISEHolds any shape can fits any bowl or crockProvides a slow steady flow of oil... the basis of successful mayonnaise-making.

ONLY 25¢

Order from your dealer or by mailCANNON CAN CLAMP CO.
330 Peachtree Street
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

way of permeating the home when the cooking is done on top of the stove. Ovens are more kindly and keep much of their appealing aroma to themselves. So we welcome cooler days when oven heat is no menace to kitchen comfort. There need be no waste of fuel nor scorched meat if the range is equipped with a heat regulator or the oven has an oven thermometer. Even the amateur is fairly safe from failure with such protection.

Of course, it is a stupid practice to run the oven for one dish, and have several top burners in use for others, which is little planning indeed if it is possible to have the entire top of the oven. Many of our vegetables respond amply to this method, and these may just as well be our choice as their more fussy companions which insist on quick open air cooking. This includes such vegetables as cabbage and its milder relatives, cauliflower and Brussels sprouts, also important greens like spinach, beets, etc.

With a closely covered pan and a little boiling water we successfully cook peas, beans, celery, onions, carrots, turnips, parsnips etc., in a moderate or hot oven, allowing a little longer than over the fire. So, when we have an oven dinner we select the best of the vegetables, and those are most adaptable, and may be baked, boiled (either quartered, sliced or diced), scalloped or cooked in the casserole. Butter and salt are the only additions for the latter method, and the result is as delicious as it is simple. An especially good oven delicacy for potatoes gives a crisp delicacy something like the more traditional French fried. For this thickly slice four medium sized raw potatoes; boil for five minutes, drain well and spread in a flat greased pan or oven glass platter. Pour over them a thin layer of melted butter, seasoned with salt, pepper, and a scant teaspoon of Worcester sauce. Bake in a hot oven fifteen or twenty minutes (until tender), basting two or three times with the butter. Serve very hot with chops, steak, fish or meat in casserole.

Many cooked vegetables serve admirably in scallop form, with a thin white sauce or cream and onion juice, grated cheese, or snappy table sauce to enhance the flavor. Creamed corn and green beans take kindly to this treatment, and slices of baked onions are delectable with a topping of cheese and brown crumbs. Mushrooms in a casserole with plenty of butter retain all their rich flavor. Heaped upon toast before baking the savory juices moisten the crisp slices perfectly. Cover with a browned lid to brown.

Quince

A shallow glass baker covered with an inverted glass pie dish turns out as choice a product as that de luxe hotel novelty "under glass bell." One of the chief advantages in such dishes is that they are to be served piping hot. Of all our foods, eggs, oysters and mushrooms are particularly safe from failure with such consideration.

An exceptionally choice oven dish is the quince, with its foundation and sometimes heaped on rounds of toast and browned in shallow ramekins for individual appetizers. The crab meat is flaked carefully to retain the horny particles, and then lightly blended with mayonnaise, a fourth as much sugar as fruit and cook slowly until thick and tender. A little honey and less sugar makes it even more luscious.

Salmon Cocktail.

Place five pieces of canned asparagus around edge of oven glass pie dish, letting top be higher than glass. Mix seasoned tomato juice with small amount of vinegar, chill. Mix diced raw carrots, diced celery, diced white turnip, chopped raw cabbage and flaked canned salmon. Place in glass dish and cover with tomato juice mix.

Negro Given Long Term.

Arthur Robinson, 24, of Fulton, was convicted of robbing S. G. Jones, street car operator, and was sentenced by Judge R. Earl Camp, presiding in Fulton superior court, to serve from 10 to 20 years on the chain gang. Robinson was charged with taking a watch, a money-changer and $36 in cash from Jones on July 14.

FIRST CHEST DONATION DOUBLES 1929 AMOUNTJ. Harry Alexander's Subscription Augurs Success of Appeal.

Happy augury for success of the Chest was described Friday night in campaign headquarters in connection with the first gift obtained by the Augur, J. Harry Alexander, a subscription for two dollars from J. H. Voorhis—a subscription for twice the amount made by the same donor last year. It was from J. Harry Alexander, president of the George Music Company.

The group working under Mr. Voorhis has raised a total of $10,000 and will seek contributions from Atlantaans of comfortable incomes within the limits of $100 to $250. It comprises 10 teams, the captains of which are Milton Dargan, Hal Hentz, R. E. Hodges, Sinclair Jacobs, Fownie Jones, George J. Jones, C. M. Kell, George T. Marchmont, Everette McRae, John K. Ottley, Jr., and Frank Spratlin.

A sight-seeing trip in which most of the 38 agencies will be visited has been arranged for workers Sunday afternoon, a bus leaving the Chest office at 74 Pryor street at 2 o'clock.

Daughter Contests Woman Hater's Will

LE MARS, Iowa, Oct. 17.—(AP)—His daughter today had written postscript to what T. M. Zink, donor of the world's first womanless library, had indited as his final word on his favorite antipathy.

Through attorneys, Mrs. Margaret B. Heflin, petitioned that her father's will be reprobated, $30,000 for the library be denied probate. She termed the final testament of her father "an insult to the womanhood of America, a libel, and a slander against public morals" and said that Zink's hatred of femininity had grown into a paroxysm of insanity.

Zink, it was ascertained, had his fortune placed in trust for 10 years, when the accumulated sum, $300,000, should be given this city, another which would build a library in accord with his stipulations. These barred the shelves of the library to tomes by women authors and opened the institution to men and boys only.

Negress Acquitted.

Rebecca Conner, negress, Friday was acquitted of the murder of her husband, Jasper Conner. Judge R. Earl Camp, presiding in Fulton superior court, directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. The homicide was said to have occurred on June 9. The woman was represented by Attorneys A. R. Dorsey and G. D. McKay.

Senator Heflin's Son
Fined as "Drunk" Here

J. Thomas Heflin, Jr., son of the militant senior senator from Alabama, was fined $10 and costs in an Atlanta police court Friday when he entered a plea of guilty to charges of being drunk and disorderly.

Mr. Smith, assistant attorney-general for two years and attorney and treasurer of the state highway board for six years, contends that south Georgia is entitled to have the secretary of the senate, since it has been 33 years since a south Georgian held the place. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, served in the World War, and is a member of the American Legion.

SEWARD M. SMITH
SEEKS SENATE POST

Seward M. Smith, of Homerville, Friday announced his candidacy for the post of secretary of the Georgia senate, made vacant with the resignation of Major Devereux F. McClatchey.

Mr. Smith, assistant attorney-general for two years and attorney and treasurer of the state highway board for six years, contends that south Georgia is entitled to have the secretary of the senate, since it has been 33 years since a south Georgian held the place. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, served in the World War, and is a member of the American Legion.

CORN MEAL

Perkerson's Corn Meal is now made from the new crop of Georgia corn. If your grocer does not carry it, the one next door does. Call for "The Corn Meal that puts Corn Pone in the class with Angel Food Cake."

J. D. Perkerson & Sons
AUSTELL, GA.

ROGERS

PILLSBURY'S BEST FAMILY FLOUR

HERE is nothing of more importance to the success of our company than courtesy. Customers and friends in our stores are as welcome as guests in our homes, and we strive to always treat you as such.

J. H. Rogers
Vice President, ROGERS.

This "balanced" flour will give you a new idea of perfect baking.

24-LB.
BAG 87¢

12-LB.
BAG 47¢

6-LB.
BAG 27¢

DRIED
FRUIT
SALE!

Here's an opportunity to lay in a supply of new-crop evaporated fruits at savings in price.

CALIFORNIA SANTA CLARA
PRUNES 2 Lbs. For 11c
Medium Size—Meaty

CALIFORNIA SANTA CLARA
PRUNES Lb. 10c
Large Size—Meaty

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED
PEACHES 2 Lbs. For 25c
Choice—New Crop

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED
APPLES 2 Lbs. For 25c
Choice—New Crop

Grape Jam
Sugar Corn
Hershey's Kisses
Pickles

Rosemary
In Pink Tea Glass Jar 19c
Rogers No. 1 Cans 3 Cans For 25c
Hershey's Kisses Chocolate Pound 33c
American Sweet Mixed 25c
25-Oz. Jar 25c

Fruits & Vegetables

RED TOKAY

GRAPES

2 LBS. FOR 13¢

GEORGIA PORTO RICAN
YAMS 5 Lbs. For 13c

SUNKIST—EXTRA LARGE
LEMONS Doz. 19c

FRESH CRISP HEARTS OF CELERY Bunch 10c

TENDER GREEN STRING
BEANS Lb. 5c

SMALL YELLOW
SQUASH Lb. 5c

LARGE JONATHAN
APPLES Doz. 33c

NO. 1 WHITE IRISH POTATOES

5 LBS. FOR 15c

Illustration of a bunch of grapes.

IN OUR MEAT DEPTS.
Pork Shoulder Whole 18c
Lb. 20c
PORK LOIN ROAST, Lb. 28c
LAMB SHOULDER
Roast Lb. 17c
LAMB CHOPS Lb. 39c
BEEF CHUCK
ROAST Lb. 23c
BROOKFIELD LINK
SAUSAGE Lb. 31c
ELBERTA SKINNED
HAMS Lb. 25c
TENDER, FAT
Fryers Lb. 30c
FRESH DRESSED
Hens Lb. 29c
LONG ISLAND DUCKS Lb. 31c

Cambrey Paper
NAPKINS Pkg. of 80 10c
Soft, Absorbent Toilet Tissue
WALDORF Roll 6c
Rogers Poncy
BREAD 16-Oz. Loaf 7c
For Sandwiches—Rogers
PULLMAN Long Loaf 9c Firm, Fat Shore
MACKEREL Each 10c
Nut Margarine
SPREDIT Lb. 19c
Rose Brand Spaghetti or MACARONI Pkg. 5c
For Greasy Hands
LAVA SOAP Cake 6c
"It Floats" Guest Size
IVORY SOAP 2 Cakes For 9c Ivory in Bead Form
IVORY SNOW 2 Pkg. For 25c

Libby's Specials for Saturday!

Bartlett Pears No. 1 Can 17c
Yellow Cling Peaches No. 1/2 Can 45c
Corned or Roast Beef, can 25c

Vienna Sausage, 3 for 25c
Potted Meat, 4 for 15c
Tomato Juice, pints 12 1/2c

All White
Eggs
Dz. 32c

Pure
Lard
Lb. 14c

Scratch Feed, 10 lbs. 29c

Shortening 8-lb. Bucket 31c
4-lb. Bucket 30c

Comet Rice 19c

Campbell's Tomato Soup 23c

Spaghetti, 3 for 25c

Del Monte Oval Sardines 11c

Broom 49c

Sorghum 33c

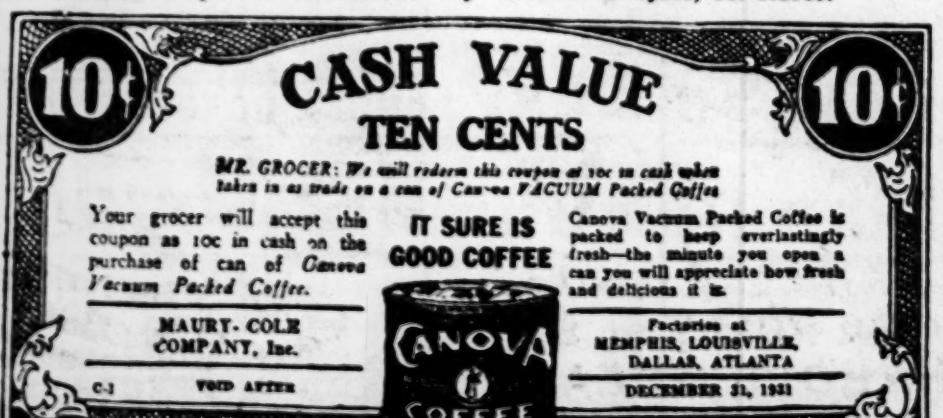

Brillo Large Size 19c
Small Size 8c

Pink Salmon 16-Oz. 2 for 25c

P & G Soap 11c

Ken-L-Ration Dog Food Supreme 2 Cans 25c

These coupons redeemed at any of R. A. Broyles, Jr. stores.

AGNES SCOTT RAISES FUND TO $221,358.36

Only About $80,000 Yet To Be Obtained in College Drive.

The Greater Agnes Scott College campaign teams Friday reported subscriptions of $14,875 in Greater Atlanta, bringing the total to date to $221,358.36. About $80,000 remains to be pledged before the close of the campaign Monday.

The remainder of the campaign will be a testimonial to Dr. J. R. McCain, president, the committee announced.

Mary Washington Note Brings $1,450 in Sale

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A faded letter, written nearly 200 years ago in the careful script of the first president of the United States, brought $1,450, the top price, at a auction sale here of autographs and manuscripts.

The letter, addressed to Mr. Lunn, Washington, was written on Christmas Day, 1748, five years after the death of her husband and when George Washington was about 16. It acknowledges receipt of a small payment of cash received by the writer just in time to meet a bill.

Tag Agents Named.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Appointment of 83 tag agents to distribute 1931 Florida automobile license plates throughout the state beginning December 1 was announced today by Walter S. McLin, acting motor vehicle commissioner.

T. S. WRIGHT HEADS FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Detroit Chosen as Next Convention City at Closing Session.

Thomas S. Wright, of Temple, Texas, was named the new president of the National Funeral Directors Association at the concluding session held in the city auditorium Friday. He succeeds Harry J. Gilligan, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Other officers elected were John T. Stroh, Sacramento, Calif., first vice president; John W. Mattie, of Rochester, N. Y., second vice president; George Karmany, of Hummington, Pa., third vice president, and Harry J. Gilligan, secretary and treasurer.

Detroit was selected as the next convention city.

Diesels Favored.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A 50-horsepower Diesel oil burning motor may displace all gasoline engines in small boats of the navy on completion of service tests to be conducted soon.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

World Society To See Baltimore Girl Plight Troth

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Titled foreigners and representatives of generations of wealth in the east and of ante-bellum Virginia aristocracy arrived today to attend the wedding tomorrow of Miss Anne Seddon King, of Baltimore, and John Nicholas Brown, of Providence and Newport, R. I.

Tonight a dinner was given for the bridal party by Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, Sr., widowed mother of the man once widely known as "the richest baby in the world." His fiancee, a member of a family socially prominent here and in Virginia, made her debut several years ago but was a Baltimore newspaper reporter for two years before the engagement was announced in June.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of which Miss Kinsolving's father, Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, is rector, promises to be the most important in the city's history.

Special traffic regulations were issued.

Brown's wealth was estimated when he was a student at between $20,000 and $25,000,000.

The wedding, scheduled for noon at old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal

REICHSTAG RESOUNDS TO FASCIST ORATORY

Hitlerites Demand Repudiation of Treaty and Young Reparations Plan.

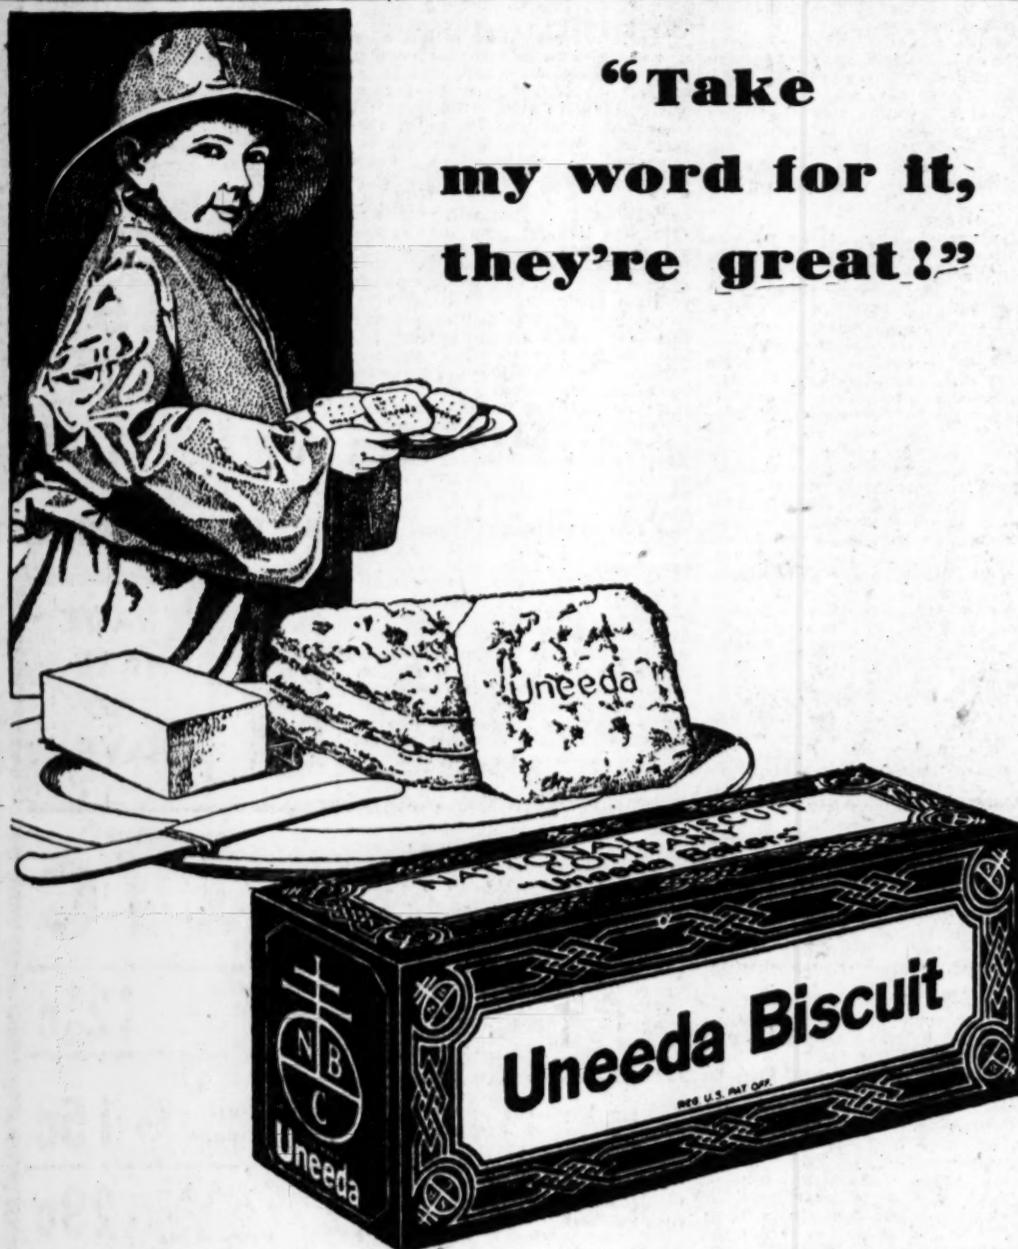

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—(UP)—The government gave its enemies in the reich-

Grate Baskets

All Kinds and Sizes

Queen Mantel & Tile Co.

224 Mitchell St. WAL. 6563

For over 30 years the world's best soda cracker—that's a record for crispness and the reason for its increasing popularity year after year. Just say Uneeda Biscuit. NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY "Uneeda Biscuit"

Better Wrapper!

FIRST we baked the most nourishing, fine-textured, appetizing loaf of bread that pure ingredients and modern methods made possible. That was Oboy Bread. Then we sliced it for the greater convenience of many of our customers. And now Oboy Sliced Bread is snugly fitted in a brand new, Super-Seal* wrapper, more sanitary and moisture-proof than ever before. The new wrapper, attractively designed in bright, gay colors, is in keeping with the optimism of these days of returning prosperity and good times.

Oboy Bread, of course, comes in either the sliced or the regular loaf. Both loaves are of the same identical high quality. Both are made with milk that passes a high butter-fat test. The sliced loaf is ready for the bread tray, for sandwiches or for toast, just the moment you take it out, oven-fresh, from its ultra-modern container. Look for Oboy Sliced Bread at your grocer's, in the new, colorful wrapper!

STONE BAKING CO.
Bakers of Oboy Bread and Southern Cake

"Good Health is the basis of Good Fortune"

*As it comes out of the sanitary slicing machine, Oboy Sliced Bread, still hot from the oven, is tightly wrapped and sealed in a special new kind of double-waxed paper called "Super-Seal". This paper is the ultimate achievement of science for keeping bread sweet, fresh and clean.

sting today a chance to loose the flood-gates of their pent-up feelings. For many hours the fascists, notably, laid down the policies they wanted the public to pursue for the solution of its pressing economic problems.

A fascist spokesman read into the record of parliament the views and principles which Adolf Hitler uttered from a rostrum in the trial at Leipzig in which three reichswher officers were accused, as fascists, of subversive propaganda in the army.

Abrigation of the Versailles treaty as "immoral and invalid."

Revision of the Young plan before reform of Germany's finances. (This would not involve a moratorium.)

Restoration of universal military service with compulsory work for all citizens.

Efforts for peace but resort to war if necessary "to achieve Germany's independence and social liberation."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were fired by both sides. The communists took part in this melee and said that several of their number had been hit by police bullets which, the authorities state, had been fired into the air to cow the disturbers. A heavy guard was thrown around the district court at which the communists were resumed and police reserves had a busy session.

A hopeful sign of the day's proceedings was noted on the Bourse, where, with the apparent probability of the government loan going through, stocks rose 4 to 7 points.

Woman Arrested.

Alleged to have "shoplifted" a pair of gloves valued at $3.05 from a downtown department store. Mrs. J. D. Pope, 39, of West Columbia avenue, was arrested late Friday afternoon on a charge of larceny by Private Detectives Sterling Gresham and E. B. Clark. Released after posting $100 bail, she will face a police court hearing this morning.

Queen Ill.

MADRID, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Queen Victoria, of Spain, is confined to her room with a cold. She was somewhat better today.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

Elimination of Jews from German life.

Today's session had been preceded by a night of disorders in the Wedding industrial section of Berlin where police had grappled with throngs in a series of encounters. Shots were

referred to as "immoral and invalid."

Laws to make export of capital treasonable.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta second-class mail matter.

Telephone WAL 6565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Daily 1 wk. 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Sunday 25c 50c 75c 1.00 1.50
Daily 16c 30c 50c 75c 1.00
Single Copy 10c
By Mail Only 10c 45c 81c 1.25 1.50
Bi-weekly 10c 45c 81c 1.25 1.50
Towns for 1st, 2nd and 3rd zones only 50c
Daily (without Sunday) 1 yr. 50c
Daily and Sunday, 1 yr. 50c

ATLANTA, GA., OCT. 18, 1930.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m., the day after it is sent out for the rest of the States.
Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner). Shultz News Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for such payments are not acknowledged, and with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entrusted with the distribution of all dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.LASTING LOVE—Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby one have entertained angels unawares.—
Heb. 12: 1, 2.PRAYER—O Lord of heaven and earth and sea, help us to prove our love for Thee.

QUICK-GEARED JUSTICE.

In seeking ways and means for a more successful combating of crime, public officials in contact with the problem have suggested some very appealing criminal law reforms.Those which are particularly persuasive here in Georgia are the ones which concern us primarily. Other states are able to deal with their own conditions and we are equally able to reform our criminal code the better to repress and punish crime within our jurisdiction.As The Constitution has already pointed out, there would be a great gain in crime suppression by a new segregation of felonies and misdemeanors. There are obviously too many offenses in the first category.
They demand all the procedures belonging to the higher crimes of treason, murder, rape, arson, assaults to murder, highway robberies, burglaries at night with arms, riot with arms and insurrection. They congest the courts and greatly increase taxes for the administration of justice.Although various plans were urged and discussed, the convention adjourned after several days of wrangling with no plan agreed upon.
History may repeat itself in this era
through the inability of the parties
at interest to "get together" upon
a workable plan for acreage reduction, surplus holding, and profitable
feeding of the crop to the market.
Yet all sane arguments call for such plenary co-operation for the profit of all the co-operators.a state of social, economic and political ferment, with daring spirits leading revolts against constituted government and assuming by force of arms the reins of power and dictation, if not actual dictatorships.The scene is not an inspiring one to the world minds interested in and laboring for popular governments devoted to law and order for all mankind. The reasons proclaimed for the revolutions now in progress in the south do not appeal to the sympathies of those who are concerned for progressive civilization.
They savor too much of political banditry and threaten democracy with the brutalities and tyrannies of militarism, and bloody discount the theory of the ability of the people to operate self-government.

THE CRUX AS TO COTTON.

If the cotton growers, the bankers and the merchants of the south will accept and follow the resolutions of counsel adopted at the New Orleans conference this week, the cotton industry will be redeemed from many drawbacks and in another season get upon the road to stability and prosperity.The suggestions made by the conference read as if bodily lifted from these editorial pages of The Constitution, for our readers will bear witness that they are the same in substance as the views so often expressed to the industry by this newspaper. We claim no special wisdom in their suggestion, because they have always been and are the obvious measures needed to make cotton growing in the south constantly profitable.But the crux of the problem is to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to obtain more uniform high prices for their great staple."Although various plans were urged and discussed, the convention adjourned after several days of wrangling with no plan agreed upon.
History may repeat itself in this era
through the inability of the parties
at interest to "get together" upon
a workable plan for acreage reduction, surplus holding, and profitable
feeding of the crop to the market.
Yet all sane arguments call for such
plenary co-operation for the profit of all the co-operators.BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for
their great staple."BUT the crux of the problem is
to get the proposed and effectual
co-operation of the planters, bankers
and merchants. Efforts to that
end have been made for nearly
a century without avail. As far back
as October, 1851, a convention of
southern cotton planters was held at
Macon, with 300 delegates, the object of the convention being "to
render the planters of cotton more
independent of the ordinary vicissi-
ties of trade and to enable them to
obtain more uniform high prices for their great staple."

Campaign Gifts of G. O. P. Employees Defended by Rose

Republican Leader Admits He Gave Funds To Aid Carswell Candidacy in Eleventh.

BY R. E. POWELL
Increasing evidence of the determined, and apparently well financed, fight of the Georgia delegation to capture one of this state's twelve seats in congress was disclosed Friday in a statement issued by Josiah T. Rose, chairman of one of two contending state central committees, in which he announced that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in Washington, by United States Senator William J. Harris with a declaration that it is not illegal for federal employees to be solicited for campaign funds so long as the solicitation is not made on a government reservation or in a government building.

Several days ago Mr. Rose issued a statement, replying to charges of Representative Charles H. Crisp in which the latter said tariff bills are framed behind closed doors under a public relations administration, and was admitting that such was the case. In that statement, the Georgia G. O. P. leader said that if the south, and particularly Georgia, was to get the kind of tariff treatment it deserved it ought to have friends at court or republicans in congress.

His statement, at the time, was interpreted as a forerunner of rather aggressive and ambitious plans of administration to make a show of Georgia—one of several southern states they failed to dent in 1928.

Mr. Rose's full statement follows: "As a republican I believe that Georgia should have representatives in both parties in congress, so that the interest of Georgia could be better served in the affairs of congress where legislation is being formulated. I am interested in the electing of Dr. Henry J. Carswell, of Watercress, from congress from the eleventh district.

"I have not received a letter soliciting funds, but early in the campaign the matter was discussed with me, and I received a relatively small amount of money to take care of some expenses that had already accrued. Everybody knows that a campaign of any kind, civic, religious or otherwise, costs money. I am not familiar with the details of money raising for this congressional campaign, but it looks to me, though, that those having this matter in their hands have gone openly and frankly to the people and asked them to support this campaign for the electing of a republican congressman. The very fact of the openness in which the matter was approached is evidence that those who have the matter in their hands will let the public and everyone to know how it was being done, and for what purpose the money was being raised. Having contributed myself, it is evident that I believe that any federal officeholder, or otherwise, should be given an opportunity to contribute funds to the conduct of this congressional campaign. If anyone, federal officeholder, or otherwise, wants to contribute, or does not want to contribute, that is his own business. As stated above, we all know it takes money to conduct any kind of campaign, and the money must be contributed by someone, and the people must be given an opportunity to contribute, or else the money could not be raised."

TAYLOR OUT ON BOND IN FATAL ACCIDENT

BEN F. Taylor, Jr., 22-year-old attorney of 912 Ponce de Leon avenue, was released by police Friday afternoon under a $5,000 bond on charges of speeding and reckless driving in connection with the death late Thursday night of Miss Lucille Harper, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Harper of 1265 Epworth street, S. W., who was killed when her car was struck at Spring and Marietta streets. The accident will be aired in recorder's court at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Harper's neck was broken when the machine in which she was a passenger was said to have been struck by Taylor's car. William Martin, another passenger in the Mansell car, was reported to be improving Friday. Both young men are from Springfield.

Services for Miss Harper will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Oakland City Methodist church, with the Rev. Jesse Warwick officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. Arrangements are in charge of Harry G. Poole.

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED SLAYER OF STUDENT

T. L. Martin, convicted of voluntary manslaughter after a trial in charge of slaying Dennis Hubert, Negro college student, Friday was denied a new trial by Judge R. Earl Camp, of Dublin, who presided in the case in July. Martin is under a sentence of from 12 to 15 years. Other defendants under the murder indictment who have not been tried are: Thomas Murphy, of Griffin; Harry Sike, M. W. Harmon, R. H. Evans and Pat Wilson. Martin is represented by Attorneys H. A. Allen and Ellis B. Barrett.

People Are Learning

People are learning how to treat Toe Itch, Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, with the remarkable prescription called Blis-To-Sol. Test on the most aggravated cases have cleared up immediately. Sold by druggists. Order a free sample. Address Box 90, Fitzgerald, Ga. (adv.)

Portable Coal GRATES

Sizes 16-in. to 30-in.
Prices $4.50 to $20.00
Closing Out at 20% Discount

Queen Mantel & Tile Co.
224 Mitchell St. Walnut 6563

Girls Start to Georgia For Swim But Miss It

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Two Newark, Ohio, girls who started for a swim in the balmy waters of Georgia, were released to relatives today after spending a night in the detention home here.

The girls, Gladys Lees, 14, and Dorothy Hagerman, 15, started for Brunswick, Ga., for a swim and a visit with Miss Lees' sister. They reached Mt. Sterling, Ohio, and decided the Cracker state was too far away and turned back.

Stated Ragsdale, an employee of the Orient State farm, gave them a ride to Columbus and delivered them to the detention home.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement followed closely one made Thursday by Judge Roscoe C. Jackson, judge of the federal court, in which he admitted that he had financially aided Dr. H. L. J. Carswell, candidate in the eleventh district, who is opposing Representative W. C. Lankford, incumbent.

Mr. Rose's statement

Sweeping Changes in State Government And Complete Revision of Tax System Urged in Russell's Acceptance Speech

MACON, Ga., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Richard B. Russell, Jr., of Winder, today accepted the democratic nomination for governor of Georgia with a "heart full of gladness" and made recommendations including:

1—Revision of the ad valorem system of taxation to take the burden of taxation off of real estate.

2—Economy in all branches of the state government and a budget to provide that the state live within its income.

3—Reorganization of the state government from "top to bottom."

4—Opposition to the proposed constitutional income tax amendment.

5—The united efforts of all citizens, "young and old, to give us the government our state deserves and is entitled to."

Urge Co-operation.

The youthful governor-elect, who won the democratic nomination in one of the most spirited gubernatorial campaigns Georgia has witnessed in years, promises to work ceaselessly "for the best interest of Georgia and her people." He urged the co-operation of all citizens in the upbuilding of the state and expressed his gratitude for expressions of support he had received. "I have a wife who will oppose the next legislature, sharing their willingness to co-operate with him in plans for the betterment of conditions of the state and of the state government.

Mr. Russell pointed to unsettled economic conditions in the state and said that this was the no time for idle fault-finding and blame-fixing. He said that the remedy for conditions in the state "challenge the best thought and most sincere patriotism of all Georgians and of the democratic party."

Address in Full.

The address of the governor-elect in full follows:

"Out of a heart full of gratitude I express to the democracy of Georgia my profound appreciation for the confidence reposed in me. I have not words at my command to translate into expression the things that I feel in my heart. The trust which is delegated to me as the titular head of the democratic party in Georgia, I accept the nomination as the standard-bearer of our party and call on all of the democracy of Georgia to rally to this standard and assume their full share of responsibility for the welfare of our state during the next two years."

"When I consider the manifold responsibilities, the perplexing problems and the unusual conditions which confront us during the next two years, the personal joy and gratification which naturally accompany the birth or being born, tempered with a feeling of humility, I recognize the impossibility of any one man successfully coping with the many difficulties which confront our beloved state today. To carry Georgia forward during the next two years in the face of the economic conditions which confront us will be the work of all the ability, all of the energy, all of the courage and patriotism of every citizen of this state. There is no time for idle fault-finding and blame-fixing. It is useless to speculate on what might have happened. Unselfish devotion to the public welfare and the welfare of our families, and forgotten of his past affiliations, unite in the common cause and seek to deserve for our party a continuation of its leadership in Georgia."

"The condition of our state today has not improved in history, save in the trying times of reconstruction immediately following the Civil War.

The average man in Georgia today cannot rightfully claim the full blessings of free government. The ugly truth is our people are held firm in the grip of an economic vice which threatens our future progress and happiness.

"Georgia is still largely an agricultural state, but due to the iniquitous tariff saddled on us by the republican party and various other causes which it is needless to discuss here, agriculture tends to be delayed and brought far below the cost of production. The last few years have brought to us the hope of great industrial development within our state, and yet today industry is stagnant and its wheels are still. Business and commerce have felt the shock of the depression to our economy, and the blighting effect of the depression is felt by every citizen no matter what may be his walk in life."

Challenge to Party.

"This is a true picture of our present situation though a pleasant one. It reminds challenges the best, the most sincere patriotism of all Georgians and of the democratic party, the party of our fathers and it behoves us to see to it that this party, rejuvenated and rehabilitated, shall truly justify its continued existence as the only party which stands for the welfare of all our citizens."

"However, adverse conditions obtain despite the unequalled variety and richness of natural resources with which we are blessed and of which we take too little account. These resources are sufficient to insure the welfare of all the conditions with which we contend today are temporary and transient. Georgians have in the past pulled their state through such times of crisis and the united and unselfish efforts of all our citizens can contribute largely to remedying the evils of the depression at a democratic convention, the prime aim of which was to benefit the average man. The times and conditions in Georgia today demand that we return to the fundamental democratic principles which have been tried and found sufficient to bring us victory in the past."

"The people of this state have by their votes in the recent primary set an unmistakable mark that the state does not wish to see any delay in the highway program of the state and that the privilege tax paid for the right to use the roads should be expended for road purposes only. The highways of Georgia are just now taking form and the modern highway transportation system demands that we do every effort to complete a hard-surfaced road from county to county site as contemplated and provided by the original highway act and that the highway department be forever removed from politics and devote its entire time and funds to building roads in Georgia."

"The democratic nomination for governor of Georgia has with all its strength and energy held positions paid for by the taxpayers and with an eye single to reconstructing the government and establishing it on a more simplified and efficient basis. In other words we must rebuild our government to the wishes of office-holders and professional politicians. We must consider every public office as a position of public trust and not as an opportunity to pay political debts at the expense of the taxpayers."

"The need for reorganization of our government is no longer a theory but is a real condition, a condition emphasized by the present distressing inability of the state to pay its appropriations for providing for the maintenance of our necessary and most important public works. We must rather consider that we are day merely commencing our task of writing into law every principle announced in the platform here adopted."

"Many of our citizens do not understand the varied and perplexing problems confronting us and are prone to be very critical of that body. I do not say that this criticism is wholly undeserved but it is certain that the general assembly can function more efficiently when aided by the sympathetic co-operation of the citizens of Georgia than when subjected to harsh criticism."

"I pledge that the next two years will see the end of the spoils system in our politics. In addition to this I ask that the people give our general assembly an opportunity to function without being hampered by local and sectional interests."

"As the democratic nominee for governor of Georgia I shall, when elected, work with the general assembly of this state in every possible way. In its last analysis the question of adopting or rejecting most of the political enemy, a united front, in order that the state may be restored to the true representatives of the people."

"Surely," said Little, "the nation has had an overdose of 'Hoover prosperity.'

Russell Accepts.

Russell in accepting the nomination did so, he said, with a "heart full of gratitude" to the electorate of the state.

The governor-elect recommended in his address to the question of the permanency of the trust which is delegated to him as the titular head of the democratic party in Georgia, I accept the nomination as the standard-bearer of our party and call on all of the democracy of Georgia to rally to this standard and assume their full share of responsibility for the welfare of our state during the next two years."

"When I consider the manifold responsibilities, the perplexing problems and the unusual conditions which confront us during the next two years, the personal joy and gratification which naturally accompany the birth or being born, tempered with a feeling of humility, I recognize the impossibility of any one man successfully coping with the many difficulties which confront our beloved state today. To carry Georgia forward during the next two years in the face of the economic conditions which confront us will be the work of all the ability, all of the energy, all of the courage and patriotism of every citizen of this state. There is no time for idle fault-finding and blame-fixing. It is useless to speculate on what might have happened. Unselfish devotion to the public welfare and the welfare of our families, and forgotten of his past affiliations, unite in the common cause and seek to deserve for our party a continuation of its leadership in Georgia."

"The condition of our state today has not improved in history, save in the trying times of reconstruction immediately following the Civil War.

The average man in Georgia today cannot rightfully claim the full blessings of free government. The ugly truth is our people are held firm in the grip of an economic vice which threatens our future progress and happiness.

"However, adverse conditions obtain despite the unequalled variety and richness of natural resources with which we are blessed and of which we take too little account. These resources are sufficient to insure the welfare of all the conditions with which we contend today are temporary and transient. Georgians have in the past pulled their state through such times of crisis and the united and unselfish efforts of all our citizens can contribute largely to remedying the evils of the depression at a democratic convention, the prime aim of which was to benefit the average man. The times and conditions in Georgia today demand that we return to the fundamental democratic principles which have been tried and found sufficient to bring us victory in the past."

"The people of this state have by their votes in the recent primary set an unmistakable mark that the state does not wish to see any delay in the highway program of the state and that the privilege tax paid for the right to use the roads should be expended for road purposes only. The highways of Georgia are just now taking form and the modern highway transportation system demands that we do every effort to complete a hard-surfaced road from county to county site as contemplated and provided by the original highway act and that the highway department be forever removed from politics and devote its entire time and funds to building roads in Georgia."

"The democratic nomination for governor of Georgia has with all its strength and energy held positions paid for by the taxpayers and with an eye single to reconstructing the government and establishing it on a more simplified and efficient basis. In other words we must rebuild our government to the wishes of office-holders and professional politicians. We must consider every public office as a position of public trust and not as an opportunity to pay political debts at the expense of the taxpayers."

"The need for reorganization of our government is no longer a theory but is a real condition, a condition emphasized by the present distressing inability of the state to pay its appropriations for providing for the maintenance of our necessary and most important public works. We must rather consider that we are day merely commencing our task of writing into law every principle announced in the platform here adopted."

"Many of our citizens do not understand the varied and perplexing problems confronting us and are prone to be very critical of that body. I do not say that this criticism is wholly undeserved but it is certain that the general assembly can function more efficiently when aided by the sympathetic co-operation of the citizens of Georgia than when subjected to harsh criticism."

"I pledge that the next two years will see the end of the spoils system in our politics. In addition to this I ask that the people give our general assembly an opportunity to function without being hampered by local and sectional interests."

"As the democratic nominee for governor of Georgia I shall, when elected, work with the general assembly of this state in every possible way. In its last analysis the question of adopting or rejecting most of the political enemy, a united front, in order that the state may be restored to the true representatives of the people."

"Surely," said Little, "the nation has had an overdose of 'Hoover prosperity.'

Russell Accepts.

Russell in accepting the nomination did so, he said, with a "heart full of gratitude" to the electorate of the state.

The governor-elect recommended in his address to the question of the permanency of the trust which is delegated to him as the titular head of the democratic party in Georgia, I accept the nomination as the standard-bearer of our party and call on all of the democracy of Georgia to rally to this standard and assume their full share of responsibility for the welfare of our state during the next two years."

"When I consider the manifold responsibilities, the perplexing problems and the unusual conditions which confront us during the next two years, the personal joy and gratification which naturally accompany the birth or being born, tempered with a feeling of humility, I recognize the impossibility of any one man successfully coping with the many difficulties which confront our beloved state today. To carry Georgia forward during the next two years in the face of the economic conditions which confront us will be the work of all the ability, all of the energy, all of the courage and patriotism of every citizen of this state. There is no time for idle fault-finding and blame-fixing. It is useless to speculate on what might have happened. Unselfish devotion to the public welfare and the welfare of our families, and forgotten of his past affiliations, unite in the common cause and seek to deserve for our party a continuation of its leadership in Georgia."

"The condition of our state today has not improved in history, save in the trying times of reconstruction immediately following the Civil War.

The average man in Georgia today cannot rightfully claim the full blessings of free government. The ugly truth is our people are held firm in the grip of an economic vice which threatens our future progress and happiness.

"However, adverse conditions obtain despite the unequalled variety and richness of natural resources with which we are blessed and of which we take too little account. These resources are sufficient to insure the welfare of all the conditions with which we contend today are temporary and transient. Georgians have in the past pulled their state through such times of crisis and the united and unselfish efforts of all our citizens can contribute largely to remedying the evils of the depression at a democratic convention, the prime aim of which was to benefit the average man. The times and conditions in Georgia today demand that we return to the fundamental democratic principles which have been tried and found sufficient to bring us victory in the past."

"The people of this state have by their votes in the recent primary set an unmistakable mark that the state does not wish to see any delay in the highway program of the state and that the privilege tax paid for the right to use the roads should be expended for road purposes only. The highways of Georgia are just now taking form and the modern highway transportation system demands that we do every effort to complete a hard-surfaced road from county to county site as contemplated and provided by the original highway act and that the highway department be forever removed from politics and devote its entire time and funds to building roads in Georgia."

"The democratic nomination for governor of Georgia has with all its strength and energy held positions paid for by the taxpayers and with an eye single to reconstructing the government and establishing it on a more simplified and efficient basis. In other words we must rebuild our government to the wishes of office-holders and professional politicians. We must consider every public office as a position of public trust and not as an opportunity to pay political debts at the expense of the taxpayers."

"The need for reorganization of our government is no longer a theory but is a real condition, a condition emphasized by the present distressing inability of the state to pay its appropriations for providing for the maintenance of our necessary and most important public works. We must rather consider that we are day merely commencing our task of writing into law every principle announced in the platform here adopted."

"Many of our citizens do not understand the varied and perplexing problems confronting us and are prone to be very critical of that body. I do not say that this criticism is wholly undeserved but it is certain that the general assembly can function more efficiently when aided by the sympathetic co-operation of the citizens of Georgia than when subjected to harsh criticism."

"I pledge that the next two years will see the end of the spoils system in our politics. In addition to this I ask that the people give our general assembly an opportunity to function without being hampered by local and sectional interests."

"As the democratic nominee for governor of Georgia I shall, when elected, work with the general assembly of this state in every possible way. In its last analysis the question of adopting or rejecting most of the political enemy, a united front, in order that the state may be restored to the true representatives of the people."

"Surely," said Little, "the nation has had an overdose of 'Hoover prosperity.'

Russell Accepts.

Russell in accepting the nomination did so, he said, with a "heart full of gratitude" to the electorate of the state.

The governor-elect recommended in his address to the question of the permanency of the trust which is delegated to him as the titular head of the democratic party in Georgia, I accept the nomination as the standard-bearer of our party and call on all of the democracy of Georgia to rally to this standard and assume their full share of responsibility for the welfare of our state during the next two years."

"When I consider the manifold responsibilities, the perplexing problems and the unusual conditions which confront us during the next two years, the personal joy and gratification which naturally accompany the birth or being born, tempered with a feeling of humility, I recognize the impossibility of any one man successfully coping with the many difficulties which confront our beloved state today. To carry Georgia forward during the next two years in the face of the economic conditions which confront us will be the work of all the ability, all of the energy, all of the courage and patriotism of every citizen of this state. There is no time for idle fault-finding and blame-fixing. It is useless to speculate on what might have happened. Unselfish devotion to the public welfare and the welfare of our families, and forgotten of his past affiliations, unite in the common cause and seek to deserve for our party a continuation of its leadership in Georgia."

"The condition of our state today has not improved in history, save in the trying times of reconstruction immediately following the Civil War.

The average man in Georgia today cannot rightfully claim the full blessings of free government. The ugly truth is our people are held firm in the grip of an economic vice which threatens our future progress and happiness.

"However, adverse conditions obtain despite the unequalled variety and richness of natural resources with which we are blessed and of which we take too little account. These resources are sufficient to insure the welfare of all the conditions with which we contend today are temporary and transient. Georgians have in the past pulled their state through such times of crisis and the united and unselfish efforts of all our citizens can contribute largely to remedying the evils of the depression at a democratic convention, the prime aim of which was to benefit the average man. The times and conditions in Georgia today demand that we return to the fundamental democratic principles which have been tried and found sufficient to bring us victory in the past."

"The people of this state have by their votes in the recent primary set an unmistakable mark that the state does not wish to see any delay in the highway program of the state and that the privilege tax paid for the right to use the roads should be expended for road purposes only. The highways of Georgia are just now taking form and the modern highway transportation system demands that we do every effort to complete a hard-surfaced road from county to county site as contemplated and provided by the original highway act and that the highway department be forever removed from politics and devote its entire time and funds to building roads in Georgia."

"The democratic nomination for governor of Georgia has with all its strength and energy held positions paid for by the taxpayers and with an eye single to reconstructing the government and establishing it on a more simplified and efficient basis. In other words we must rebuild our government to the wishes of office-holders and professional politicians. We must consider every public office as a position of public trust and not as an opportunity to pay political debts at the expense of the taxpayers."

"The need for reorganization of our government is no longer a theory but is a real condition, a condition emphasized by the present distressing inability of the state to pay its appropriations for providing for the maintenance of our necessary and most important public works. We must rather consider that we are day merely commencing our task of writing into law every principle announced in the platform here adopted."

"Many of our citizens do not understand the varied and perplexing problems confronting us and are prone to be very critical of that body. I do not say that this criticism is wholly undeserved but it is certain that the general assembly can function more efficiently when aided by the sympathetic co-operation of the citizens of Georgia than when subjected to harsh criticism."

"I pledge that the next two years will see the end of the spoils system in our politics. In addition to this I ask that the people give our general assembly an opportunity to function without being hampered by local and sectional interests."

"As the democratic nominee for governor of Georgia I shall, when elected, work with the general assembly of this state in every possible way. In its last analysis the question of adopting or rejecting most of the political enemy, a united front, in order that the state may be restored to the true representatives of the people."

"Surely," said Little, "the nation has had an overdose of 'Hoover prosperity.'

Russell Accepts.

Russell in accepting the nomination did so, he said, with a "heart full of gratitude" to the electorate of the state.

The governor-elect recommended in his address to the question of the permanency of the trust which is delegated to him as the titular head of the democratic party in Georgia, I accept the nomination as the standard-bearer of our party and call on all of the democracy of Georgia to rally to this standard and assume their full share of responsibility for the welfare of our state during the next two years."

"When I consider the manifold responsibilities, the perplexing problems and the unusual conditions which confront us during the next two years, the personal joy and gratification which naturally accompany the birth or being born, tempered with a feeling of humility, I recognize the impossibility of any one man successfully coping with the many difficulties which confront our beloved state today. To carry Georgia forward during the next two years in the face of the economic conditions which confront us will be the work of all the ability, all of the energy, all of the courage and patriotism of every citizen of this state. There is no time for idle fault-finding and blame-fixing. It is useless to speculate on what might have happened. Unselfish devotion to the public welfare and the welfare of our families, and forgotten of his past affiliations, unite in the common cause and seek to deserve for our party a continuation of its leadership in Georgia."

"The condition of our state today has not improved in history, save in the trying times of reconstruction immediately following the Civil War.

The average man in Georgia today cannot rightfully claim the full blessings of free government. The ugly truth is our people are held firm in the grip of an economic vice which threatens our future progress and happiness.

"However, adverse conditions obtain despite the unequalled variety and richness of natural resources with which we are blessed and of which we take too little account. These resources are sufficient to insure the welfare of all the conditions with which we contend today are temporary and transient. Georgians have in the past pulled their state through such times of crisis and the united and unselfish efforts of all our citizens can contribute largely to remedying the evils of the depression at a democratic convention, the prime aim of which was to benefit the average man. The times and conditions in Georgia today demand that we return to the fundamental democratic principles which have been tried and found sufficient to bring us victory in the past."

"The people of this state have by their votes in the recent primary set an unmistakable mark that the state does not wish to see any delay in the highway program of the state and that the privilege tax paid for the right to use the roads should be expended for road purposes only. The highways of Georgia are just now taking form and the modern highway transportation system demands that we do every effort to complete a hard-surfaced road from county to county site as contemplated and provided by the original highway act and that the highway department be forever removed from politics and devote its entire time and funds to building roads in Georgia."

"The democratic nomination for governor of Georgia has with all its strength and energy held positions paid for by the taxpayers and with an eye single to reconstructing the government and establishing it on a more simplified and efficient basis. In other words we must rebuild our government to the wishes of office-holders and professional politicians. We must consider every public office as a position of public trust and not as an opportunity

THE GUMPS—THE DREAMER

The MURDER at the VICARAGE
BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

INSTALLMENT XXII

"I believe in hard work. We'll be gin by just sitting down your own movements, Mr. Clement."

"Willingly," the telephone call came through about half-past five.

"A man's voice or a woman's?"

"A woman's. At least it sounded like a woman's. But, of course, I took it for granted it was Mrs. Abbott speaking."

"You didn't recognize it as being Mrs. Abbott?"

"No, I can't say I did. I didn't notice the voice particularly."

"And you started right away? Walked? Haven't you got a bicycle?"

"No."

"I see. So it took you—how long?"

"It's very nearly two miles, which ever way you go."

"Through Old Hall woods is the shortest way, isn't it?"

"Actually, yes. But it's not particularly good going. I went and came back by the footpath across the fields."

"The one that comes out opposite the vicarage gate?"

"Yes."

"And Mrs. Clement?"

"My wife was in London. She arrived back in the 8:50 train."

"Right. The maid I've seen. That finishes with the vicarage. I'll be off to Old Hall next. And then I want an interview with Mrs. Le Strange. Queer, her going to see Protheroe the night before he was killed."

I agreed.

Glancing at the clock, I realized the hours nearly lunch time. I invited Melchett to partake of pot luck with me, but he excused himself on the plea of having to go to the Blue Boat.

On my way home I ran into Miss Hartnell, and she detained me at least ten minutes, declaiming in her deep bass voice against the improvidence and ungratefulness of the lower classes. The crux of the matter seemed to be that the poor did not want Miss Hartnell in their houses. My sympathies were entirely on their side. I am debarred by my social standing from expressing my prejudices in the forceful manner they do. I soothed her as best I could and made my escape.

Haydock took me in his car at the vicarage.

"I've just taken Mrs. Protheroe home," he called.

He waited for me at the gate of his house.

"Come in a minute," he said.

"This is an extraordinary business," he said as he threw his hat on a chair and opened the door into his surgery.

He sank down on a shabby leather chair and sat across the room. He looked harried and perplexed.

I told him that we had succeeded in fixing the time of the shot. He listened with an almost abstracted air.

"That lets Anne Protheroe out," he said. "She was glad it's neither of those two. I like 'em both."

I believed him, but it occurred to me to wonder why, since, as he said, he liked them both, their freedom from complicity seemed to have had the result of plunging him in gloom. This morning he had looked like a man with a weight lifted from his mind, but he looked thoroughly rattled and upset.

And yet I was convinced that he meant what he said. He was fond of both Anne Protheroe and Lawrence Redding. Why, then, this gloomy absorption?

He ruminated himself with an effort. I meant to tell you about Hawes. All this business has driven him out of my mind."

"Is he really ill?"

"There's nothing radically wrong with him. You know, of course, that he's had encephalitis lethargica—sleeping sickness, it's commonly called."

"No," I said, very much surprised. "I didn't know anything of the kind. He never told me anything about it. When did he have it?"

"About a year ago. He recovered all right—as far as one ever recovers. It's a strange disease—has a queer moral effect. The whole character may change after it."

He was silent for a moment or two, and then said:

"You know, I'd rather have my job than yours."

"Because your job deals very largely with what we call right and wrong—and I'm not at all sure that there's any such thing."

I looked at the doctor curiously.

"I've never heard you speak like this before."

"I don't usually air my theories abroad. Today I'm riding my hobby. You're a intelligent man, Clement, which is more than some persons are. You won't admit, I daresay, that there's no such thing as what is technically termed 'sin,' but you're broad minded enough to consider the possibility."

"It strikes at the root of all our accepted ideas," I said.

"Yes, we're a narrow minded, self-righteous lot, only too keen to judge others. I know nothing about it. I honestly believe in the message for the doctor, not the policeman and not the person. In the future, perhaps, there won't be any such thing."

"You'll have cured it?"

"Well, I have cured it. Rather a wonderful thought. Have you ever studied the statistics of crime? No, very few people have. I have, though. You'd be amazed at the amount there is of adolescent crime—glads again, you see. Young Neil, the Oxfordshire murderer—killed five little girls before he was suspected. You'd be amazed at the amount of any kind. Lily Rose, the little Corinthian girl—killed her uncle because he docked her of sweets. Hit him when he was asleep, with a coal hammer. Went in home and a fortnight later killed her elder sister who had annoyed her about some trifling matter. Not a single person has been harmed, of course. Sent to a home. May be all right later—may not. Doubt if the girl will. The only thing she cares about is seeing the pigs killed. Do you know when suicide is commonest? Fifteen to 16 years of age. From self-murder to murder of some kind isn't a very long step. But it's not a moral lack—it's a physical one."

"What you say is terrible!"

"No—it's only new to you. New truths have to be faced. One's ideas adjusted. But sometimes it makes life difficult."

"Come in a minute," he said.

"Haydock," I said, "if you suspect—

"—if you know—that a certain person was a murderer, would you give that person up to the law, or would you be tempted to shield him?"

I was quite unprepared for the effect of my question. He turned on me with a suddenness I had not expected.

"What makes you say that, Clement? What's in your mind?"

"Why, nothing particular," I said, rather taken aback. "Only—well, murder is in our minds just now. If by chance you happened to discover the truth—I wondered how you would feel if I told you all."

His anger died down. He stared once more straight ahead of him, like a man trying to read the answer to a riddle that perplexes him.

"If I suspected—if I knew—I should do my duty, Clement. At least I hope so."

The question is—which way would you consider your duty lay?"

He looked at me with inscrutable eyes.

"That question comes to every man some time in his life, I suppose, Clement—it's only man has to decide in his own way."

"You don't know?"

"I felt the best thing was to change the subject."

"That nephew of mine is enjoying this case thoroughly," I said. "Spends his entire time looking for footprints and cigarette ash."

Haydock smiled and said, "What age is he?"

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

Continued Monday.

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

ACROSS	51	Existed.
	52	Enduring.
	53	Used in
6	64	area palm.
11	65	Mineral spring.
14	66	Extreme pain.
15	67	To place in a row.
16	68	Roman house.
17	69	In a denying manner.
20	70	Trouble.
21	71	River in Switzerland.
22	72	Mental conception.
23	73	Synecdoche.
26	74	Domestic animal.
28	75	Church reading desk.
30	76	The Indigo plant.
32	77	Sun.
34	78	Strong malt liquor.
35	79	Turkish government.
37	80	Lariat.
39	81	Net.
42	82	An attractive woman.
45	83	East Indian weight.
46	84	Exhausted.
47	85	Ethical sorrow.
48	86	Narrow water-way.
49	87	Congeal.
51	88	Leaf of a wild god.
52	89	Enduring.
53	90	Three times: music.
54	91	Rate of exchange.
55	92	Beetle.
56	93	Capture.
57	94	In an abnormal state.
58	95	Elongated fish.
59	96	Pillage: archaic.
60	97	Lively.
61	98	Thing: law.
62	99	Woman's name.
63	100	Takes care of.
64	101	Down.
65	102	Mountain shoe.
66	103	Avordupois weight.
67	104	Greek pilaster.
68	105	Song.
69	106	Insomniac.
70	107	Homely.
71	108	Signal light.
72	109	Celtic root.
73	110	Stock.
74	111	Exclamation of sorrow.
75	112	Ceremony.
76	113	Living less.
77	114	Rams lightly.
78	115	Habituate.
79	116	Weight.
80	117	Apples.
81	118	Widened.
82	119	Music.
83	120	Change.
84	121	Change.
85	122	Change.
86	123	Change.
87	124	Change.
88	125	Change.
89	126	Change.
90	127	Change.
91	128	Change.
92	129	Change.
93	130	Change.
94	131	Change.
95	132	Change.
96	133	Change.
97	134	Change.
98	135	Change.
99	136	Change.
100	137	Change.
101	138	Change.
102	139	Change.
103	140	Change.
104	141	Change.
105	142	Change.
106	143	Change.
107	144	Change.
108	145	Change.
109	146	Change.
110	147	Change.
111	148	Change.
112	149	Change.
113	150	Change.
114	151	Change.
115	152	Change.
116	153	Change.
117	154	Change.
118	155	Change.
119	156	Change.
120	157	Change.
121	158	Change.
122	159	Change.
123	160	Change.
124	161	Change.
125	162	Change.
126	163	Change.
127	164	Change.
128	165	Change.
129	166	Change.
130	167	Change.
131	168	Change.
132	169	Change.
133	170	Change.
134	171	Change.
135	172	Change.
136	173	Change.
137	174	Change.
138	175	Change.
139	176	Change.
140	177	Change.
141	178	Change.
142	179	Change.
143	180	Change.
144	181	Change.
145	182	Change.
146	183	Change.
147	184	Change.
148	185	Change.
149	186	Change.
150	187	Change.
151	188	Change.
152	189	Change.
153	190	Change.
154	191	Change.
155	192	Change.
156	193	Change.
157	194	Change.
158	195	Change.
159	196	Change.
160	197

MINISTER'S DAUGHTER CHARGES KIDNAPING

Man Hunted After Athens Police Hear Story of 17-Year-Old Girl.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 17.—On a guess of a nervous colleague, Miss Esther Furcorn, 17-year-old girl, who alleges she was kidnaped from the campus of Anderson College at Anderson, S. C., last Monday afternoon by Willie Wilson, 25, is confined at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Vera Peay, 1947 South Lumpkin street, here.

Miss Furcorn was taken into custody here Thursday night by Athens police. She said she eluded Wilson shortly after they arrived here. During the night, her father, the Rev. W. F. Furcorn, Baptist minister of Grovers, Ga., called for her and her to Mrs. Peay's home. The Rev. and Mrs. Furcorn will probably be here a few days until the girl recovers sufficiently to make the trip home.

Monday afternoon Wilson, who lives at Grovers, and has been a friend of the Furcorn family for years, called at the college to take a "look-around" for a girl he is said to be "interested" in. Miss Furcorn said that there had been nothing between the two, and that it was a practice of the school to let the girls go riding with acquaintances. The girl said she suspected nothing and accepted the invitation. Wilson is married and has a child.

Due to her state of nervousness, the girl was unable to talk to reporters here. It is said, that Wilson left here last night in the direction of Florida. Placards with a photo of Wilson and the facts of the case have been mailed to police departments, and Georgia police are keeping a sharp lookout.

North Carolina authorities several days ago requested Governor Hardman of Georgia, to aid in the search for the girl.

Wilson is wanted on a charge of larceny and kidnapping. He is 35 years of age, five feet nine inches tall, has red, curly hair, is slender, and was wearing a blue suit and slate-colored hat when he left here Thursday night in a Dodge six sedan, license No. N. C. 110907, 1930. The car was of a blue-black color and the right-hand door was bent.

AGRICULTURAL CREDIT BODY GETS CHARTER

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Organization of the Georgia-Carolina Agricultural Credit Corporation was perfected Friday when the charter was received and the following officers elected:

President, Herschel V. Jenkins; executive manager and secretary, G. L. Williams; vice president, John L. Cope; treasurer, E. B. McCuen. The directors are H. V. Jenkins, J. Leoward, R. L. Cope, E. B. McCuen and G. L. Williams.

The corporation has been made to begin operations on December 1. Loan committees for the various counties of Georgia and South Carolina in which farm loans will be made are now being perfected. The capital stock is $1,000,000. Loans will be made largely for preparation of their crops. The loaning power is $1,000,000 at present. The charter provides for an increase of capital to one million if warranted in which event the loaning power would increase proportionately.

FORESTERS TO MEET IN ATHENS TODAY

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 17.—A joint meeting of the Appalachian and southeastern section of the Society of American Foresters will be held in Connor Hall of the Georgia State College of Agriculture Saturday, according to Professor Duper Barret, head of the forestry department.

It will be the first time in the history of the organization that they have met jointly. The purpose of the conference is to discuss various forestry problems of this section of the country. One hundred or more representative foresters from the six states adjoining Georgia are expected to be here.

Permanent Wave

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 17.—A permanent wave, $3, is now available at the new permanent wave parlor of the Maison Victoire, Inc., 113½ Alabama St., phone Jackson 8986. Cor. Whitehall and Alabama.

PEACHTREE ST.

Two Shops in Atlanta 113½ ALABAMA ST. Phone Jackson 8986 Cor. Whitehall and Alabama.

18½ PEACHTREE ST. Phone JA. 9378-9379 Opposite Davison-Paxon's And above All Over the Southland

ECZEMA ALMOST UNBEARABLE

Resinol Heals

"Some time ago eczema broke out on my leg. After weeks of special treatment during which time the itching and burning was so severe I could hardly stand it, I was told nothing more could be done for me. A friend of mine urged me to try Resinol Ointment, which I did. I am happy to say it healed my leg completely and I have never had a recurrence. My husband also used Resinol for a rash on his hands with the same excellent results. We are never without it in our home." (Signed) Mrs. E. France, Pawtucket, R. I.

At your druggists. For free sample write Resinol, Dept. 48, Baltimore, Md.

Farm Board Official Urges Varied Program for Georgia

Heads Poetry Society

A. Frank Lever Speaks Before 35 State Specialists and Supervisors at Athens.

BY TURNER HIERS.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 17.—Approximately 35 state specialists and supervisors of the extension division of the Georgia State College of Agriculture held their regular quarterly meeting in Connor Hall Friday. J. Phil Campbell, extension director, presided at the meeting.

A. Frank Lever, representing the federal farm board and co-author of the Smith-Lever bill, was the principal speaker. In the speech the week Mr. Lever has attended several conferences with agencies working toward solving the agricultural situation in Georgia, including one before the Atlanta bankers Thursday. In his talk to the specialists and supervisors, he made the following comment:

"The county agents and home economics forces of the state can do no better service in their work than get behind the Georgia program which has been mapped out jointly by the Georgia Bankers Association, the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, the Georgia State College of Agriculture and other interested agencies. This program is one of balanced and diversified national.

Acreage Reduction.

"One of the immediate objects of the program is the reduction of the cotton acreage of the state as a means of carrying out the plan of a balanced program. But reduced acreage must be followed by something to take its place.

"The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

During both the county agents and home economics workers to put their best in the movement, Mr. Lever suggested the necessity of being a cooperative movement. He pointed out the fact that no farmer would be able to get any benefit from the federal program except through the co-operative marketing organizations. In discussing the agricultural marketing act, he said:

"This is the first time that the federal government tendered its full financial strength to help the farmer put his operations on a business basis."

It was the conclusion of the conference that the best way to systematic aid for transients and to prevent reduplication and fraud is by constant use of a state clearing house. To this end each welfare worker is to be assigned to make a record of transient appeals and to file the records with the Atlanta clearing house. In turn, the Atlanta clearing house will provide information on request from any welfare worker. In this way, the records of transients will be constantly on file and better disposition can be made of the cases, it was pointed out.

Outlines Co-operative Plan.

J. E. Conwell, president of the Georgia Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association, outlined the plan which was adopted at the meeting of Georgia Bankers' Association, as follows:

"That the plant operations be planned and handled by a joint committee and general production of food and feed to supply to the greatest possible degree the needs of the family or families and all farm animals on every farm unit. The home garden, the cane and potato production, the fruit production, the family cow or other animal power, the use of the tractor to make possible the records of transients and to file the records with the Atlanta clearing house. In turn, the Atlanta clearing house will provide information on request from any welfare worker. In this way, the records of transients will be constantly on file and better disposition can be made of the cases, it was pointed out.

State Clearing House Urged for Transients

"That the remaining acre be devoted to such staple market crops and live stock as are suitable for the section and which will afford a satisfactory division of time and the maximum number of profitable days of labor.

"That every bank require every farmer to make a statement showing the condition of his financial affairs and showing the success he has met with in one or more previous years in his farming operations.

"That the banker or bankers in each county, the business men, the farmers, the editor of the agricultural and home demonstration agents co-ordinate their efforts and form a real county agricultural board for determining what are the strong and weak points of their county farming systems of production and marketing.

"That a safe, safe, practical and comprehensive plan be outlined in the county, the naming of the committee, the naming of the members and all other formalities pertaining to the county that can be used in preparing a history of Chattooga county, which will be published and filed as a permanent history.

Rural Schools to Open.

SUMMERTIME, Ga., Oct. 17.—The rural schools of Chattooga county will open on October 18, the county board of education having fixed that date at its last meeting. It was decided to wait until this time in order that the children in the country school districts could have more time to assist in the harvesting of the crops.

Cotton Increase Shown.

SUMMERTIME, Ga., Oct. 17.—According to the ginning report as announced by the department of commerce, through the bureau of the census, the total number of bales of cotton ginned in Chattooga county prior to October 1 was 1,899 bales, as compared with 1,225 prior to the same date last year. This year shows an increase of 674 bales over last year, but it is thought that this increase is due to the fact that the cotton has matured earlier this year than it did last year.

Richard Gibson Passes in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(UPI)—Richard Gibson, son of the late Senator Randall Lee Gibson, of Louisiana, prominent businessman in Washington and New York, died today in his 58th year.

Born in New Orleans, he was a nephew of the late Edward D. White, chief justice of the United States and a descendant of Patrick Henry. He was in the real estate and investment securities business.

Reds to Subpoena Walker in Defense

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(UPI)—Three communists today were granted a postponement to October 21 when arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct in connection with yesterday's sit-in at the half in connection with a board of estimate hearing on the municipal budget.

The postponement was requested by the trio—J. Louis Engdahl, Frieda Jackson and Anna Pogribnyak—who would have time to subpoena Mayor James J. Walker and members of the budget committee.

Entertain at Banquet.

MARIETTA, Ga., Oct. 17.—The Business Girls' Club of the Marietta Y. W. C. A. Thursday night entertained at a banquet at the Marietta Golf Club in honor of Mayor T. M. Brumby and wife, business and ministers of the city.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION OPENS

R. A. Lapsley, Jr., Makes Principal Speech at Opening Night Session.

Miss Moina Michael, 'Poppy Lady,' Welcomed Home

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 17.—Delegates began arriving in the city early Friday for the eighteenth annual convention of the Georgia Christian Endeavor Union which opened in the afternoon at the Reid Memorial Presbyterian church for a three-day session. All during the afternoon delegates were being registered and assigned to homes where they are being entertained.

At 2:30 o'clock the state executive committee held its first meeting. The committee was expecting 750 delegates.

The convention opened with a prayer service led by the Rev. Richard L. Wilson, Jr., pastor of the Presbyterian church, Cartersville, and first vice president of the state union.

Peter Marshall, of Columbius Theological seminary, Decatur, is the song leader for the convention with Miss Agnes Halford, of this city, at the piano.

The delegates assembled in the convention church Friday night and a 15-minute sonata service was held. The Rev. E. D. Hale, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, led the devotional portion of the service. The addresses were made by Judge Cornell R. Eve, for Richmond county and the city, Rev. S. L. McCarthy, for the convention church, and T. Shepherd Clark for the convention committee. C. Wyile Stalter, second vice president of the state union, made the presentation of the state union.

"The theme of the convention is 'The Challenge of Christ to the Youth of Today.'

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes.

"The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

The federal farm board thinks the farmer should take advantage of putting in a good fall crop, such as oats, rye, rye and all types of winter legumes."

TRI-STATE CITRUS MERGER ADVOCATED

Florida, California and Texas May Pool Crops Through Co-op.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Possibility of a merger of California, Texas and Florida citrus and citrus juice industries, under supervision of the federal farm board was given credence today by two officers of the Florida Citrus Exchange.

G. C. Neelis, president of the farm board and president of the California exchange, was said in a Tampa news dispatch to favor an ultimate joining of forces by citrus growers of the three states.

In a Fort Pierce dispatch to the Miami Daily News, Homer Needel, vice president of the Florida Co-operative organization, said he believed such a joining of forces will occur within three years.

E. L. Wirt, Bartow, chairman of the board of directors of the Florida exchange, said a project of this nature was likely, but that no final steps toward the merger had been taken.

Needel quoted the California exchange president as favoring the merger if the Florida co-operative group can control 70 per cent of the crop, Needel said the Florida Citrus Exchange this year has signed 60 per cent of the state's crop and that he believed an additional 10 per cent of growers may be signed next year.

Needel recently returned from Washington where he conferred with Mr. Tugman who Wirt said was expressing his personal views on the project.

Possibility that the citrus juice industry may in time surpass in volume the marketing of fruit in the three states was seen by Needel, who said Florida is moving through development of a former a greater national citrus market. He said that Florida oranges yield from four to five gallons of juice to the box while California oranges give from three to three and one-half gallons.

Chemists, he said, have found through experimentation that the most satisfactory combination of juices from the two regions gives Florida a 70-30 balance in volume over California.

WOMEN VOTERS QUIZ CANDIDATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(UP)—Women in more than 20 states, representing the National League of Women Voters, are getting November political candidates on record as to their views on various questions of public interest.

National headquarters here has received word from its state and local branches in at least 20 states that candidates' questionnaires have been distributed and that most of them have answered them.

Typical questions propounded to candidates for the senate or house include:

1. What is your attitude on ratification of the London naval treaty?

2. What is your attitude on adherence of the United States to the permanent court of international justice?

3. What is your attitude on the "game duck" amendment, on development of Muscle Shoals under government operation, on continuing federal appropriations, under administration of the children's bureau for educational work to reduce maternal and infant mortality?

Answers from candidates are printed and sent to every member of every women's voters' league in the respective states. The League, it is noted, is ignored that information also is distributed among the women voters; but few have been ignored, according to reports at headquarters.

BLAME IS FIXED FOR 3 RAIL DEATHS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Blame for the wreck of two big Baldwin trains which killed 12 passengers and 10 crew members here early today has been fixed by the railroad on a signal towerman, D. F. Stephens, 26, of Cleveland. Decision of the Ohio public utilities commission as to the cause was waiting completion of a separate investigation.

Those killed were Fireman Henry A. Spires, 40; Fireman Charles Graff, 65; and Conductor Jerry F. Dixon, all of the westbound train. All the victims resided in Cleveland.

Colliding on a curve, in rain and early morning darkness while each was running about 22 miles an hour, the two locomotives careered upward, severing and toppling the tenders and telescoping the cabs and tenders, and Frank G. McCarthy, 42, engineer of the west bound train and Clarence Sheffield, 35, fireman on the eastbound, were hit by steam but crawled painfully out of the wreckage. Both are in critical condition.

Star Spangled Banner Calms Terrorized Crowd

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—A bottle of flashlight powder exploded with a cannon-like roar, Thursday night, in city hall rotunda during a celebration arranged by several city superintendents in honor of William Randolph Hearst, publisher.

The blast roared through the high-ceilinged room and raced through the near-by microphones to the plaza outside and over radio lanes to listeners as far away as Seattle and San Francisco.

In the rotunda, listeners were paralyzed with shock for a moment; then, as a hysterical woman set up the cry of "bombs!" began a mad scramble for exits. Police reserves, battling to keep order, were swept aside.

A moment later, both crowds, inside and out, were stilled by the clear-headed action of Mayor James Ralph, Jr., and Walt Rosner, theater band leader, whose orchestra had rehearsed a medley of patriotic airs for the occasion.

Mayor Ralph shouted to Rosner: "Play something!"

As the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" floated through the rotunda and outside to the plaza, both crowds as quickly as they had been cast into panic by the blast, became calm.

How To Relieve Sick Headache In 3 Minutes

When one of those sick, raging headaches come and you want three-minute relief, go to any drug store or soda fountain and ask for a package or dose of the "B-C" (10c and 25c packages) the wonderful new preparation of a North Carolina druggist that is guaranteed safe and speedy, without dangerous side effects.

"B-C" relieves any kind of a headache, sciatic, neuralgic or female pain, because it contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of pain, regardless of its origin. The "B-C" formula is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours.

H. M. Atkinson Honored at Dedication Of Huge Hydro-Electric Power Station

Photos by Kenneth Rogers, Staff Photographer.

Opening Plant Atkinson, on the Chattahoochee river, H. M. Atkinson, chairman of the board of the Georgia Power Company, is shown (right) turning steam into the turbine, the act which started the generation of electricity at the giant hydroelectric unit. At the left Preston S. Arkwright, president, is shown speaking to the big crowd on hand for the ceremonies. He acted as master of ceremony and delivered one of the principal addresses.

New Plant on Banks of Chattahoochee Placed in Service at Turn of Magical Wheel.

By B. R. CRISLER.

Plant Atkinson, the cathedral of a new faith, altar of an almost virtually unknown God, electricity, was dedicated to the people of Georgia in elaborate ceremonies Friday by the Georgia Power Company. And a considerable number of those same people were on hand to witness the ceremony and to respond to the enthusiastic hand-clapping to the didactic addresses, uttered through four large amplifiers and accompanied by the hum of giant mechanisms which gave off a monotone as awesome as Gregorian chants under vaulted arches.

The report said that the affair probably proved to be the most sensational exposure of intrigue in favor of Russia ever made in the country.

Its discovery apparently was made by the authorities only today and details have not been disclosed although it was admitted that the arrests had been made and that others were to follow.

HOSPITAL GROUP PLANS 25 MILLION EXPANSION

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The American Protestant Hospital Association in the United States and Canada will launch a $25,000,000 building program this year.

"We have hospitals affiliated with us having a total property value alone of $360,000,000," Dr. F. C. English, executive director, said. "Last year we did $85,000,000 worth of business and of which $12,000,000 worth was entirely non-collectable or charity work.

Court of Appeals of Ga.

Judgments Affirmed.

Atlanta Gas Light Company vs. Central of Georgia Railway Company; Atkinson Tie and Timber Company vs. Gay, receiver; Georgia and Florida vs. Gay, receiver; Georgia and Florida vs. Gay, receiver; Pierpont Manufacturing Company of Georgia and Florida vs. Sebastian Line, et al., Company from Chatham superior court; Judge Medelton, Charles E. Donnelly, W. T. Williams, Asst. Atty. Gen., for plaintiffs; M. Cunningham, Jr. A. Lawrie, Jr., Hitch, Denmark & Lovett, Anderson, Cann & Cann, for defendants.

Boggs vs. Atlantic Coast Line Investment Company; from Bibb superior court—Judge Jones, E. F. Goodrum, for plaintiff in error. Luther L. Bloodworth, for defendant.

Judgments Reversed.

Agricultural Finance Corporation vs. Hartsell, et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Hodges, Clarence E. Adams, for plaintiff; Judge Hodges, Clarence E. Adams, for defendant.

Bell vs. Macon Finance Company; Burns vs. Bibb Brokerage Company; Etheridge vs. Mutual Investment Company; Jenkins vs. W. T. Williams, et al., from Fulton Empire Investment Company; from Bibb superior court—Judge Jones, E. F. Goodrum, for plaintiff; W. T. Williams, et al., from Fulton, for defendant.

Bell vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company et al., from Greene superior court—Judge Park, Joseph G. Faust, for plaintiff; Cumming & Harper, for defendants.

Supreme Court of Georgia

Judgments Affirmed.

Murrell vs. Morton, et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Humphries, Sam E. Murrell, R. E. Church, K. E. Murrell, for plaintiffs; W. T. Williams, et al., for defendants.

Jackson vs. Lowry, sheriff; from Fulton superior court—Judge Jones, John T. Townsend, W. T. Williams, et al., for plaintiff; John A. Borkin, collector-general; John S. McCallan, collector; J. Walter LeCraw, for defendant.

Reed vs. Kreigelsader & Son, Inc., et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Thomas, W. T. Williams, et al., for plaintiff; John T. Townsend, W. T. Williams, et al., for defendant.

Jackson vs. Lowry, sheriff; from Fulton superior court—Judge Jones, John T. Townsend, W. T. Williams, et al., for plaintiff; John A. Borkin, collector-general; John S. McCallan, collector; J. Walter LeCraw, for defendant.

Harrison, collector general, et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Pomery, Paul S. Kittredge, Sam T. Rogers, S. Belser, for plaintiffs; George M. Naylor, et al., for defendant.

T. R. Gross, assistant attorney general; Frank Carter, Robert S. Sims, Troutman, et al., for defendant.

Hutchings et al. vs. Remond et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Thomas, L. L. Moore, W. T. Williams, et al., for plaintiff; John T. Townsend, W. T. Williams, et al., for defendant.

National City Bank of Rome vs. Manger et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Thomas, L. L. Moore, W. T. Williams, et al., for plaintiff; John T. Townsend, W. T. Williams, et al., for defendant.

Roos, Wright & Covington, Barry Wright, for plaintiff in error. Hall & Jones, Porter & Leibson, for defendant.

Edge vs. Forman et al., from Colquitt superior court—Judge Thomas, L. L. Moore, A. R. Kline, for plaintiff in error. U. V. Whipple, A. M. Hiltz, John T. Coyle, for defendant.

Judgments Reversed.

Atlanta Gas Light Company vs. Farren, et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Williams, W. T. Williams, et al., for plaintiff in error. Hall & Grice & Block, F. O. Holliday, Ellsworth Hall, Jr., for defendant.

Judgments Dismitted.

Dixie Life Finance Company vs. Morgan, et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Williams, W. T. Williams, et al., for plaintiff in error. T. N. Henson, J. H. Williams, J. A. Roberts, contra.

Carl F. Hutchens, James R. Barbour, for defendant.

C. M. L. Miller, et al., for defendant.

Cartierari, Daniel, for defendant.

Blanchard, et al., from Chatham.

U. S. Steel Pipe Company et al., et al., from Cobb, et al., for defendant.

Bell vs. Still, administrator; from Walton, Carter vs. State; from Floyd.

Carter vs. State; from Floyd.

Judgments Affirmed.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—(Saturday)—(AP)—The Daily Mail today published wireless dispatch stating that Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, speeding by airplane from England to Australia, had arrived at Sourabaya, Java, from Singapore. His next stop is Timor.

Cahill Radiant GAS HEATERS $17.50 to $65.00 (We Install Them) Queen Mantel & Tile Co. 224 Mitchell St. Walnut 6553

Smith Reaches Java.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—(Saturday)—(AP)—The Daily Mail today published wireless dispatch stating that Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, speeding by airplane from England to Australia, had arrived at Sourabaya, Java, from Singapore. His next stop is Timor.

Food tastes much better when cooked on the right sort of range—and you'll find just that sort at Sterchi's. Make your selection today and start Sunday's dinner in the right way.

FLORIDA HIGH COURT UPHOLDS GASOLINE TAX

Three Contests on Storage Tax Upheld by Court Ruling.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Florida supreme court, in deciding the three cases late today, upheld the validity of the state's tax on the storage of gasoline within the state for the owners' use, as applied to the tax on the storage of gasoline by municipalities for the cities' use, and as applied to the tax on the sale of gasoline by dealers.

Special Indian chefs have been engaged to cook native dishes for the visitors. Out of respect to religious beliefs no beef or pork will be allowed to enter the building, but apart from this there will be no attempt to acknowledge caste distinction.

This is the first time the government ever has made a move of this kind in connection with conferences here.

The veterans are having a special rededication of the number of members as the result of new regulations recently promulgated by the administration.

In the center of the city of West Palm Beach vs. Ernest Amos, comptroller, the supreme court upheld the validity of the same act as it applied to taxing municipalities for storage of gasoline brought into the state for use of the public.

In the case of the Orange State Oil Company vs. the comptroller, the supreme court upheld an act of the 1927 legislature requiring dealers in petroleum products to pay in addition to other taxes, a tax of 5 cents a gallon more on gasoline sold in the state, whether to individuals, firms or municipalities.

In the case of the Orange State Oil Company vs. the comptroller, the supreme court upheld an act of the 1927 legislature requiring dealers in petroleum products to pay in addition to other taxes, a tax of 5 cents a gallon more on gasoline sold in the state, whether to individuals, firms or municipalities.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

The order was issued at the direction of President Hoover as a result of the unemployment conditions in the United States.

State University Homecoming Featured by Brilliant Program

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 17.—Annual "home-coming," held at the University of Georgia this week-end, is bringing hundreds of alumni and friends of the institution to the Athens campus.

A brilliant social program has been arranged for the week-end. Eleven of the local Greek letter fraternities are entertaining visiting girls from Georgia and other states at house parties. The Pan Hellenic council is sponsoring a series of dances, the first of which will be held in Woolruff Hall this evening. A ten-dance will be held at the same place tomorrow afternoon. That evening there will be the concluding dance of the weekend. Music for the dances will be furnished by the Cummings and his original Atlanta Big Hops.

College Belles

The following college belles are guests of the various fraternities for the home-coming house parties: Sigma Alpha Epsilon: Misses Harriet Wymore, Atlanta; Ann Ridley, Atlanta; Josephine Crawford, Atlanta; Mally Strode, Atlanta; Brian, Atlanta; Enid Graham, Athens; Edith Jones, Cleveland, Tenn.; Sis Jenkins, Columbus; Katherine Waddell, Cleveland, Tenn.; Agnes Jernigan, Athens; Susan Collier, Atlanta; Bobby Jewell, Atlanta; Elmira Chambers, Macon; Dorothy Smith, Macon; Virginia Lawrence, Savannah; Joanie Head, Atlanta, and Mary Oates, Columbus, S. C.; Mrs. Philip Alton, Atlanta; Mrs. Carlton, Athens, and Mrs. Cam Dorsey, Atlanta, chaperons.

Chi Phi: Misses Helen Smith, Louise Robert, Kate Jenkins, Catherine Brooks, Mary Cobb Honeycutt, all of Atlanta; Lillian Roth, Atlanta; Josephine Crawford, Atlanta; Flossie Hill, Mary, Joanie Davis, Vaughan Nixon, Frances Clarke, Collette Howell, all of Atlanta; Jennie Tate, Charlotte, N. C.; Mary McLaurin, Charlotte, N. C.; Emma Magid, ner, Atlanta; Josephine Bond, Toccoa; Mary Harris Hubbard, Asheville, N. C.; Marcella Walker, Gainesville; Mary Martin, Multicite; Alice Brannon, Moultrie; Serene Williams, Waycross, Fla.; Elizabeth Garner, Wite City, Miss.; Marjorie Moody, Dothan, Ala.; Rosalie Childress, Atlanta; Sarah Saunders, Montezuma; Dot Woodall, Woodstock, and Anna Redding, Mount Zion, Atlanta; and Mrs. W. C. Daniels, Athens, chaperons.

Kappa Sigma

Kappa Sigma: Misses Clara Lee Peoples, Estill, S. C.; Niller Ruth Tillman, Lexington; Lula Carter, Atlanta; Sims Mafee, Macon; Martha McCord, Macon; Bunny Porter, Cordele, and Katherine Hartrampt, Atlanta. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Neal, Atlanta, chaperons.

Pi Kappa Phi: Misses Helen Boone, Atlanta; Linder Wetherby, Cummings; Flossie Hill, Atlanta; Sara Lane, Atlanta; J. B. Shiffle, Atlanta; Frances Buchan, Hawkinsville; Eleanor Carsgrove, Augusta; Marion Cuthbert, Cuthbert, Atlanta; Gailine Gandy, Louise, Brookhaven, N. C.; Ruth Hood, Commerce; Margaret Snelling, Atlanta; Sue Glaudier, Cornelia; Frances Cleveland, Valdosta; Georgia Rice, Commerce; Dorothy Williams, S. C.; Louise Barnes, Atlanta; Sondine Carroll, Atlanta; Miriam Battle, Atlanta; Anne Mae Hines, Savannah, and Agatha Smith, Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Worth Williams, Athens, chaperons.

Sigma Chi Alpha: Misses Frances Starbuck, Atlanta; Polly Keenan, Athens; Martha Jim Arnold, Athens; Ruth Georgetown, S. C.; Josephine Neufeld, Atlanta; Mary Elizabeth, Atlanta; Minnie Mitchell, Waycross; Susan Patty, Newnan; Leon Patterson, Cuthbert; Elizabeth Hendrickson, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mary Toombs, Cleveland, Ohio; Susan Doak, Stanton, N. H., and Sadie Tirland, Waycross; Mrs. W. D. Hooper, Athens; Mrs. Bob Gurnett, Athens, and Mrs. Wately Davis, Atlanta, chaperons.

Sigma Nu: Misses Martha Collins, Baum; Doris Baldwin, Atlanta; Peggy Rector, Atlanta; Adelaide Eleanor Smulyan, Atlanta; chaperons.

Miss Louise Slack and Mr. Hooker Wed at Ceremony in LaGrange

LAGRANGE, Ga., Oct. 17.—The marriage of Miss Louise Slack and Scroop DeWitt Hooker, of Newark, N. J., took place at 1 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Richmond Slack, last Tuesday at high noon before an assemblage of relatives. An arrangement of ferns, palms and dahlias was used in the reception rooms, the color scheme of pink and gold predominating. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George T. Tamm, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Harry Richmond Slack, and Tom Bern, III, of Charlotte, N. C., acted as best man.

The bride wore a traveling costume of pirate blue canton crepe fashioned with eton jacket and flared skirt.

Mr. Hooker, Harry Richmond Slack, while a student at Yale, and which has been used at the wedding of each generation of the family since.

Miss Rosa Muller played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bridal party. Misses Van Stoveren, Atlanta, and Donna Spiegel, Spartanburg, S. C., and Mrs. Sam Simowitz, Augusta, and Mrs. Lula Morris, Athens, chaperons.

Phi Epsilon Phi: Misses Pat Goldberg, Atlanta; Marjorie Cef, Atlanta; Claire Strauss, Atlanta; Laura Wiltshire, Atlanta; Mrs. Mary Morris, Atlanta; Mildred Richam, Macon; Jean Nutting, Atlanta; Elizabeth Ullman, Atlanta, and Esther Hackell, Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Lottie Cohen, Athens, and Mrs. Louis Golden, Atlanta, chaperons.

Alpha Gamma Rho: Misses Ruth Stover, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Madeline Tankley, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Eugene Kitchens, Atlanta; Marian Lee, Atlanta; Edna Wallace, Jacksonville, Fla.; Ruth Trabham, Asheville, N. C.; Carolyn Lee, Athens; Eleanor Wittery, Athens; Dorothy Dawson, Atlanta; Grace Fowler, Atlanta, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kittle, Athens, chaperons.

Tau Epsilon Phi: Misses Evelyn Rosenber, Atlanta; Gussie Cohen, Hazelhurst; Evelyn Wilson, Gainesville; Ethel Garner, Atlanta; Charlotte Rosenber, Plant City, Fla.; Helen Silberstein, Lakeland, Fla.; Eleanor Smulyan, Atlanta; chaperons.

Mr. Harry Slack, Sr., wore black velvet with trimmings of real lace and a corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Hardee Honored At Luncheon Yesterday

Mrs. Martha McCrory entertained at a bridge-luncheon at her home on Pelham road yesterday in honor of Mrs. Malvina Hardee, who has recently moved to Atlanta from Jacksonville, Fla., to reside. The table was centered with yellow and white chrysanthemums and covers were placed for the honor guest, Mesdames Wildred D. Keyser, Roy McCrory, E. Y. Frederik, Jr., Linwood Smith, Marion Roberts, A. A. Patzans and Miss McCrory.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Harry Richmond Slack, and Tom Bern, III, of Charlotte, N. C., acted as best man.

The bride wore a traveling costume of pirate blue canton crepe fashioned with eton jacket and flared skirt.

Mr. Hooker, Harry Richmond Slack,

while a student at Yale, and which has been used at the wedding of each

generation of the family since.

Miss Rosa Muller played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bridal party. Misses

Van Stoveren, Atlanta, and Donna

Spiegel, Spartanburg, S. C., and Mrs.

Sam Simowitz, Augusta, and Mrs.

Lula Morris, Athens, chaperons.

Phi Epsilon Phi: Misses Pat Gold-

berg, Atlanta; Marjorie Cef, Atlanta;

Claire Strauss, Atlanta; Laura Wilt-

shire, Atlanta; Mrs. Mary Morris, Atlanta; Mildred Richam, Macon; Jean

Nutting, Atlanta; Elizabeth Ullman, Atlanta, and Esther Hackell, Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Lottie Cohen, Athens, and Mrs. Louis Golden, Atlanta, chaperons.

Alpha Gamma Rho: Misses Ruth

Stover, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Madeline

Tankley, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Eugene

Kitchens, Atlanta; Marian Lee, Atlanta; Edna Wallace, Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slack, Sr., wore black

velvet with trimmings of real lace and a corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs.

Slack entertained at a wedding breakfast. The bride's table was covered with a white and brocade cloth

and the wedding cake adorned the central decoration. The cake was embossed in white and gold roses and from the center rose a silver vase of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Punch was served in the sunparlor

by Mrs. Searcy Slack and Miss Mary

Eloue, and Tom Bern, III, of Charlotte, N. C., acted as best man.

The bride wore a traveling costume

of pirate blue canton crepe fashioned with eton jacket and flared skirt.

Mr. Hooker, Harry Richmond Slack,

while a student at Yale, and which has been used at the wedding of each

generation of the family since.

Miss Rosa Muller played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bridal party. Misses

Van Stoveren, Atlanta, and Donna

Spiegel, Spartanburg, S. C., and Mrs.

Sam Simowitz, Augusta, and Mrs.

Lula Morris, Athens, chaperons.

Phi Epsilon Phi: Misses Pat Gold-

berg, Atlanta; Marjorie Cef, Atlanta;

Claire Strauss, Atlanta; Laura Wilt-

shire, Atlanta; Mrs. Mary Morris, At-

lanta; Mildred Richam, Macon; Jean

Nutting, Atlanta; Elizabeth Ullman, At-

lanta, and Esther Hackell, Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Lottie Cohen, Athens, and Mrs. Louis Golden, Atlanta, chaperons.

Alpha Gamma Rho: Misses Ruth

Stover, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Madeline

Tankley, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Eugene

Kitchens, Atlanta; Marian Lee, Atlanta; Edna Wallace, Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slack, Sr., wore black

velvet with trimmings of real lace and a

corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs.

Slack entertained at a wedding breakfast. The bride's table was covered

with a white and brocade cloth

and the wedding cake adorned the

central decoration. The cake was em-

bossed in white and gold roses and

from the center rose a silver vase of

sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Punch was served in the sunparlor

by Mrs. Searcy Slack and Miss Mary

Eloue, and Tom Bern, III, of Charlotte, N. C., acted as best man.

The bride wore a traveling costume

of pirate blue canton crepe fashioned with eton jacket and flared

skirt.

Mr. Hooker, Harry Richmond Slack,

while a student at Yale, and which has been used at the wedding of each

generation of the family since.

Miss Rosa Muller played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bridal party. Misses

Van Stoveren, Atlanta, and Donna

Spiegel, Spartanburg, S. C., and Mrs.

Sam Simowitz, Augusta, and Mrs.

Lula Morris, Athens, chaperons.

Phi Epsilon Phi: Misses Pat Gold-

berg, Atlanta; Marjorie Cef, Atlanta;

Claire Strauss, Atlanta; Laura Wilt-

shire, Atlanta; Mrs. Mary Morris, At-

lanta; Mildred Richam, Macon; Jean

Nutting, Atlanta; Elizabeth Ullman, At-

lanta, and Esther Hackell, Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Lottie Cohen, Athens, and Mrs. Louis Golden, Atlanta, chaperons.

Alpha Gamma Rho: Misses Ruth

Stover, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Madeline

Tankley, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Eugene

Kitchens, Atlanta; Marian Lee, Atlanta; Edna Wallace, Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slack, Sr., wore black

velvet with trimmings of real lace and a

corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs.

'THE HOMESTEAD' TO BE WEDDING SCENE THIS EVENING

Miss Spalding To Wed Albert S. Anderson, Jr.

"The Homestead," the ancestral home of the bride-elect's mother in West End, will be the scene of the marriage of Miss Constance Spalding, lovely second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Spalding, to Albert Sidney Anderson, Jr., the ceremony taking place at 8 o'clock this evening. Rich in traditions of southern hospitality and hallowed with gracious memories of other weddings that have been solemnized in the same charming rooms, "The Homestead" will furnish a lovely setting for the quartet of sisters who will attend the bride-elect and for the large assemblage of Atlanta society witnessing the marriage vows.

The date also marks the birthday anniversary of the bride-elect and the ceremony, making her Mrs. Anderson, as read by Dr. E. M. Poole of the Second Baptist church, will be the same as that used 56 years ago when Dr. Albert T. Spalding, paternal grandfather of the bride-elect, officiated at the marriage ceremony of Miss Mary Brown and Dr. E. L. Connally, maternal grandparents of Miss Spalding. The same service has been used for the marriages of Miss Spalding's uncles and aunts, her mother and father, and her sister, Mrs. Thomas Crook Prather, who will follow the nuptial service. Mr. and Mrs. Spalding will entertain at a reception for the several hundred members of society attending the wedding, which ranks with the outstanding events of the fall social calendar.

Other Parties.

Other Atlantans whose weddings are just in the offing and are listing the cordial interest of society in the marriage of Mr. and Albert Howell, Jr., who will be central figures at the party at which Robert H. Pogram will host this evening at the dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Miss Lillian LeConte and John N. Haddock will be the honored guests at Miss Mary Brown's wedding party this evening, the guests to be the members of their wedding party and a few additional guests. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wood will entertain at a buffet supper this evening for Miss Mary Dodd and Sam Worley, whose marriage will take place at an early date.

Mr. Tolley, of England, who is the interesting guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Jones, Jr., is among the most distinguished visitors in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Allison Thorne will give a tea following the Tech-Auburn football game at their home on Peachtree street, today with Mr. and Mrs. Tolley sharing the honors with Mrs. E. B. Edgar, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Mr. Tolley will be central figure at the breakfast at which Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Hurt will entertain this morning at their home on Brookwood Hills.

Another wedding of interest featuring the calendar is that of Miss Elizabeth Webb and Dr. Mark Stovall Douglass, Jr., which will be solemnized at 5 o'clock at the Emory University chapel.

When the Auburn Tigers meet the Tech Yellow Jackets in the annual gridiron clash at Grant field this afternoon, the cause of the week will be championed by two of Atlanta's most popular belles, Miss Patterson and Miss Clyde Ezell, who will act as sponsors for the game.

Miss Louise Fielding To Be Honored.

DECATUR, Ga., Oct. 17.—Mrs. R. N. Pelot and Miss Evelyn Pelot will be joint hostesses at bridge Monday afternoon at their home, 240 Kings highway, in Decatur, in honor of Miss Louise Fielding, a charming bride-elect, and 16 friends of the honor guest will be present.

Social Notes

From Brookhaven.

BROOKHAVEN, Ga., Oct. 17.—E. N. Gaines and Tom Gaines, of Flower Branch, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Gaines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mathews, of East Point, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mathews and family, of Norcross, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Rabin on Sylvan drive.

W. B. A. was reorganized Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Frey on Sylvan drive, and those present were Mesdames Jenifer Brown of Garfield, Thomas Spencer, H. A. Smith, H. R. Rowell, A. Ferguson, Luther Singleton, O. B. Rowell, F. E. Fenn and Fred Frey.

Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. M. Wright on Old Decatur.

The guests were Grady Wilson, Jeanne Howard, Malcolm Skinner, Robert Skinner, Erwin Skinner, Jack and Elsa Norris Clark, Harrison, Jr., Sarah F. Richardson, Puerla Wynn, Billy Wynn, Jr., Bobby Boswell, Louise Poyer, Clayton Scottfield, Jr., Mayme Ruff, S. C. Hobbs, Stevens, Jr., Elinor Whiteford, Fred Holley, Jr., Jeanne and Homer Elliott, Jr., Mary Alice Jackson, Brinkley Jackson.

Southeastern Council Meets in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17.—Emphasizing the development of the General Federation of Women's Clubs from 68 clubs in 1890 to 14,000 clubs in the United States today, the president, Mrs. John Sippel, of Baltimore, will hold the opening session of the southeastern council of the organization in session here this week. "I feel that the general federation has always played in tune with the times and the thing needed is the thing we have done."

An enthusiastic gathering of southern women representing ten states and the republic of Cuba attended the opening session, which will be held in the Cenotaph Club, Mrs. Flora M. Gifford, president of the southeastern council presided.

Mrs. Cleman Wilson Is Honor Guest.

One of the parties honoring Mrs. Cleman Wilson before her recent marriage was a miscellaneous shower given recently by Miss Hazel Strickland at her home on Patterson avenue. A large number of the guests were forward in the "southern" manner, but the "down steady" Union and diversity was the first slogan of the federation." Mrs. Sippel said, and later on the body adopted: "A group of organized women in every community who can be depended upon to promote all movements looking toward betterment of life." The slogan at present, Mrs. Sippel brought out, is: "Our common goal is toward enrichment of life through better adjustment of human relations."

Prominent speakers addressed the council at the Friday morning sessions, held at the Hotel Noel. A pilgrimage was made to the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson, and each state present placed a wreath on the tomb of General Jackson and paid tribute. Mrs. Flora M. Gifford placed wreath for the southerners and Mrs. Sippel a wreath for the northerners following the opening session.

Mrs. Cleman Wilson Is Honor Guest.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant, Jr., were hosts yesterday at tea at their home on Chatham road in compliment to Mrs. L. C. Lambeth, of Charlotte, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr. The guests included a limited number of friends of the hosts and honor guests. Mr. and Mrs. Lambeth and Mr. and Mrs. Howell were guests for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris, Jr., last evening at their home on Habersham road.

Mrs. DeWitt Given
Series of Parties.

Mrs. J. L. DeWitt, of Washington, D. C., who is being entertained during a visit in Atlanta with relatives and friends, was honor guest yesterday at the luncheon given by Mrs. Charles C. McGehee at the Piedmont Driving Club. Covers were placed for 12 close friends of the house.

Friday evening General and Mrs. DeWitt were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Saturday evening at their home on Lebanon road.

Mrs. Leftwich Weds
Thomas A. Carter.

The marriage of Miss Sadie Delia Leftwich and Thomas Alfonso Carter took place last Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the minister, Rev. T. T. Davis at his home on Brownwood avenue in the presence of a small gathering of relatives and friends.

The only attendants were Mrs. George Byron Minor, aunt of the bride; D. H. Broom and Kemp H. Carson.

Mrs. Carter is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Leftwich of Lithonia and Mr. Carter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carter of Athens. The bride wore a going-away ensemble of blue cloth, with accessories to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter will be at home at 134 South Candler street, Decatur, after their wedding journey.

Four Atlanta Poets Represented In Poem of 1930

Dr. Anderson Scruggs, chairman of the poetry division of the Atlanta Writers' Club, announced that four Atlanta poets are represented by five poems in the "Poems of 1930" at a meeting of the Writers' Club held yesterday. The "Poems of 1930," which is a book compiled by Thomas Sturge, of London, includes some of the best published poems during the year by English, Irish and American poets. Of the 80 poems in the book 37 are by American poets, five being from Atlanta. The Atlanta poets include Ernest Hartshorne, in "Sister," which was the $100 prize given by the American Poetry Society last year; Daniel Hickey, "Inscription for a Sun Dial;" Mary Brent Whiteside, "Poplars;" Dr. Scruggs with two poems, "Glory to Them" and "Shadow Friend."

Dr. Frank Reade, of the Atlanta Writers' Club, presided over the meeting at which Robert H. Pogram will host this evening at the dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club. Miss Lillian LeConte and John N. Haddock will be the honored guests at Miss Mary Brown's wedding party this evening, the guests to be the members of their wedding party and a few additional guests. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wood will entertain at a buffet supper this evening for Miss Mary Dodd and Sam Worley, whose marriage will take place at an early date.

Mr. Tolley, of England, who is the interesting guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Jones, Jr., is among the most distinguished visitors in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Allison Thorne will give a tea following the Tech-Auburn football game at their home on Peachtree street, today with Mr. and Mrs. Tolley sharing the honors with Mrs. E. B. Edgar, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Mr. Tolley will be central figure at the breakfast at which Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Hurt will entertain this morning at their home on Brookwood Hills.

Another wedding of interest featuring the calendar is that of Miss Elizabeth Webb and Dr. Mark Stovall Douglass, Jr., which will be solemnized at 5 o'clock at the Emory University chapel.

When the Auburn Tigers meet the Tech Yellow Jackets in the annual gridiron clash at Grant field this afternoon, the cause of the week will be championed by two of Atlanta's most popular belles, Miss Patterson and Miss Clyde Ezell, who will act as sponsors for the game.

Miss Louise Fielding

To Be Honored.

DECATUR, Ga., Oct. 17.—Mrs. R. N. Pelot and Miss Evelyn Pelot will be joint hostesses at bridge Monday afternoon at their home, 240 Kings highway, in Decatur, in honor of Miss Louise Fielding, a charming bride-elect, and 16 friends of the honor guest will be present.

Social Notes

From Brookhaven.

BROOKHAVEN, Ga., Oct. 17.—E. N. Gaines and Tom Gaines, of Flower Branch, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Gaines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mathews, of East Point, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mathews and family, of Norcross, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Rabin on Sylvan drive.

W. B. A. was reorganized Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Frey on Sylvan drive, and those present were Mesdames Jenifer Brown of Garfield, Thomas Spencer, H. A. Smith, H. R. Rowell, A. Ferguson, Luther Singleton, O. B. Rowell, F. E. Fenn and Fred Frey.

Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. M. Wright on Old Decatur.

The guests were Grady Wilson, Jeanne Howard, Malcolm Skinner, Robert Skinner, Erwin Skinner, Jack and Elsa Norris Clark, Harrison, Jr., Sarah F. Richardson, Puerla Wynn, Billy Wynn, Jr., Bobby Boswell, Louise Poyer, Clayton Scottfield, Jr., Mayme Ruff, S. C. Hobbs, Stevens, Jr., Elinor Whiteford, Fred Holley, Jr., Jeanne and Homer Elliott, Jr., Mary Alice Jackson, Brinkley Jackson.

Southeastern Council

Meets in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17.—Emphasizing the development of the General Federation of Women's Clubs from 68 clubs in 1890 to 14,000 clubs in the United States today, the president, Mrs. John Sippel, of Baltimore, will hold the opening session of the southeastern council of the organization in session here this week. "I feel that the general federation has always played in tune with the times and the thing needed is the thing we have done."

An enthusiastic gathering of southern women representing ten states and the republic of Cuba attended the opening session, which will be held in the Cenotaph Club, Mrs. Flora M. Gifford, president of the southeastern council presided.

Mrs. Cleman Wilson Is Honor Guest.

One of the parties honoring Mrs. Cleman Wilson before her recent marriage was a miscellaneous shower given recently by Miss Hazel Strickland at her home on Patterson avenue. A large number of the guests were forward in the "southern" manner, but the "down steady" Union and diversity was the first slogan of the federation." Mrs. Sippel said, and later on the body adopted: "A group of organized women in every community who can be depended upon to promote all movements looking toward betterment of life." The slogan at present, Mrs. Sippel brought out, is: "Our common goal is toward enrichment of life through better adjustment of human relations."

Prominent speakers addressed the council at the Friday morning sessions, held at the Hotel Noel. A pilgrimage was made to the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson, and each state present placed a wreath on the tomb of General Jackson and paid tribute. Mrs. Flora M. Gifford placed wreath for the southerners and Mrs. Sippel a wreath for the northerners following the opening session.

Mrs. Cleman Wilson Is Honor Guest.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant, Jr., were hosts yesterday at tea at their home on Chatham road in compliment to Mrs. L. C. Lambeth, of Charlotte, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr. The guests included a limited number of friends of the hosts and honor guests. Mr. and Mrs. Lambeth and Mr. and Mrs. Howell were guests for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris, Jr., last evening at their home on Lebanon road.

Mrs. DeWitt Given
Series of Parties.

Mrs. J. L. DeWitt, of Washington, D. C., who is being entertained during a visit in Atlanta with relatives and friends, was honor guest yesterday at the luncheon given by Mrs. Charles C. McGehee at the Piedmont Driving Club. Covers were placed for 12 close friends of the house.

Friday evening General and Mrs. DeWitt were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Saturday evening at their home on Lebanon road.

Mrs. Leftwich Weds
Thomas A. Carter.

The marriage of Miss Sadie Delia Leftwich and Thomas Alfonso Carter took place last Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the minister, Rev. T. T. Davis at his home on Brownwood avenue in the presence of a small gathering of relatives and friends.

The only attendants were Mrs. George Byron Minor, aunt of the bride; D. H. Broom and Kemp H. Carson.

Mrs. Carter is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Leftwich of Lithonia and Mr. Carter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carter of Athens. The bride wore a going-away ensemble of blue cloth, with accessories to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter will be at home at 134 South Candler street, Decatur, after their wedding journey.

North Carolina Visitor

Miss MacIntyre and Dr. J. Gaston Gay To Be Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beall and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McAfee will entertain at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, October 20, at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McAfee, 55 Montgomery Ferry drive, in Asbury Park, honoring their sister, Miss Margaret MacIntyre, and Dr. James Gaston Gay, whose marriage will take place on October 22. The wedding rehearsal will follow the wedding rehearsal at the home of the bride-elect's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre, Jr., and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre.

The hosts will be assisted in entertaining the guests by Misses Marie and Lawson McAfee, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. McAfee. The guests will include Mrs. E. L. MacIntyre, Mrs. Eloise G. Gay, Mrs. Margaret MacIntyre, Marie McAfee, Mrs. McAfee, Rehekah Scott, Peggy Gay, Louise MacIntyre, Elizabeth Scott, Marie Louise Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. J. Sprout Lyons, Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Bunting, Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Foot, Brawley, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Scott, Hugh McAfee, of Tuxedo, N. J., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. McAfee; Tom MacIntyre and Billy Brawley.

The hosts will be assisted in entertaining the guests by Misses Marie and Lawson McAfee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beall and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McAfee will entertain at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, October 20, at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McAfee, 55 Montgomery Ferry drive, in Asbury Park, honoring their sister, Miss Margaret MacIntyre, and Dr. James Gaston Gay, whose marriage will take place on October 22. The wedding rehearsal will follow the wedding rehearsal at the home of the bride-elect's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre, Jr., and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre.

The hosts will be assisted in entertaining the guests by Misses Marie and Lawson McAfee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beall and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McAfee will entertain at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, October 20, at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McAfee, 55 Montgomery Ferry drive, in Asbury Park, honoring their sister, Miss Margaret MacIntyre, and Dr. James Gaston Gay, whose marriage will take place on October 22. The wedding rehearsal will follow the wedding rehearsal at the home of the bride-elect's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre, Jr., and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre.

The hosts will be assisted in entertaining the guests by Misses Marie and Lawson McAfee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beall and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McAfee will entertain at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, October 20, at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McAfee, 55 Montgomery Ferry drive, in Asbury Park, honoring their sister, Miss Margaret MacIntyre, and Dr. James Gaston Gay, whose marriage will take place on October 22. The wedding rehearsal will follow the wedding rehearsal at the home of the bride-elect's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre, Jr., and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre.

The hosts will be assisted in entertaining the guests by Misses Marie and Lawson McAfee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beall and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McAfee will entertain at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, October 20, at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McAfee, 55 Montgomery Ferry drive, in Asbury Park, honoring their sister, Miss Margaret MacIntyre, and Dr. James Gaston Gay, whose marriage will take place on October 22. The wedding rehearsal will follow the wedding rehearsal at the home of the bride-elect's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre, Jr., and Mrs. Dan I. MacIntyre.

The hosts will be assisted in entertain-

ing the guests by Misses Marie and Lawson McAfee.</

SELLING PRESSURE DROPS CURB LISTS

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(P)—The curb market沉没 under light but persistent selling pressure today, which reached a climax in the last hour, drove many shares down 1 to 2 points or more to new lows. Trading was dull until late and total sales aggregated only $75,100.

Electric Bond and Share was actively sold, dropping nearly 5 points to 32 1/2, new low for the year, and on 2 points above the low of last November. This active issue has frequently been a favorite bear target.

American Gas and Electric dropped more than 4 to 93 1/2, new low.

Electric and Foreign Power warrant was lost 3 and Foreign Power or two, included American Super-and American Light and Traction,

Middle West Utilities and United

Light "A" Insull Utility Investment and International Superpower, however, each gained about a point in a few sales.

Oils were depressed by further weakness in crude oil price.

Gulf Vacuum declined about 3 to new low, although the latter recovered slightly. New Haven and Cities

Service lost much in the national gas market. Missouri-Kansas Pipe

Service was below 10 for the first time in the mining issues. Newton dropped 3, and Mayflower, an investment trust with extensive mining stock holdings, 2 points, to new low.

Some of the less active industrials dropped 11 1/2 to a new bottom at

35. Atlas Playwood, Bigelow Hartford

Carpet, and Cooper Bessemer were other issues penetrating new low levels. Pratt & Lambert, however, closed 2 points higher, and United States Playing Card mounted 5. Non-

Electric gained a point. Investment trusts were largely under pressure,

although Shenandoah gained a point in a moderate turnover. Prince &

Whitely issues again reacted, losing most of the previous day's gains.

U. S. FINDS BETTER BUSINESS IN ORIENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(P)—A strengthening tendency in economic conditions in the Orient was indicated today by the returns of American foreign trade for August.

Exports from the United States to Japan increased amount to $37.7

540,000, a gain of 8 per cent compared with like exports in July. The earlier section of the commerce department noted that the increase was made despite continued economic depression throughout the Orient.

At the same time American purchases from the Orient for August, which were $67,193,000, were 4 per cent greater than those of July due to more extensive American buying of raw silk, tin, rubber and coffee.

COMPLEXITIES MARK BUSINESS SITUATION

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(P)—Dun's

Review tomorrow will say:

Many complexities continue as disturbing elements in the trade situation. Higher temperatures in some sections have naturally a different effect on retail distribution and there has been a slow recession again

during the past week. Such a condition is never, necessarily, one of a passing influence. While trade movements are still somewhat uncertain,

there is less hesitancy in a number of branches. Salesmen on the road are encountering a highly selective demand from retail, but are booking fair orders, business apparently responding quickly to any betterment in the employment situation. Industrial conditions, on the other hand,

are not marked by any appreciable forward movement, a sharp disappointment being experienced at the showing end those industries which revealed a moderately better trend in September. Steel operations have not fulfilled the promises made and price pressure has been reduced.

Automobile output has been further reduced chiefly in the low-priced car divisions. In New England there has been a slight seasonal improvement, with some industries making a fair showing but others still experiencing a slow slack business.

Weekly bank clearings $9,087,064,

(000), a decrease of 33.4 per cent from a year ago.

MISCELLANEOUS MARKETS

DRY GOODS.—New York.—Cotton goods

market slightly quieted today, but burlap was steady in gray and printed.

Burlap was unchanged with a fair amount of trade reported for spot goods and in raw silk market.

No quiet here. Spring is in the wood goods market, more free and easier around the center of the country. Delinquent of rayon, in fine fabrics, are being tried out in the market trade.

RUBBER

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Rubber futures

closed steady; December, $8.00; March 8.20;

May 8.50. New contracts: December 8.10;

March 8.38; May 8.60.

Spot, unchanged ribbed 71.

1,405,000 TIMES A DAY

Every day 1,405,000 homes, farms, and industries in 26 states, Canada and the Philippines Islands use the services of the Associated Gas and Electric System.

Every day 158 new customers are added to its lines.

Associated Gas and Electric Company 5% Gold Debenture Bonds, due 1968, yield about 5 1/2% at the pre-market market.

Interest earned 2.22 times

on an overall basis before depreciation.

These bonds enjoy an active market on the New York Curb Exchange.

Send for Circular

Public Utility Investing Corp.

61 Broadway, New York City

Please send me Circular P. 278.

Address

1,405,000

1421-1425 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

MEMBERS AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ACCOUNTANTS

Ed. Richardson, G. P. A. W. G. Jackson, G. P. A. L. L. Davis, G. P. A.

125 Peachtree St. N. E. Atlanta, Ga.

WEEK GIVES COTTON IRREGULAR MARKET

NEW YORK. Oct. 17.—(P)—The cotton market has had rather an irregular week with prices fluctuating on a comparatively moderate volume of business. An accumulation of cotton was reported over the Co-jumbus Day adjournment caused a decline early in the week, but the offerings were absorbed by trade or speculative buying and there were sales later on covering.

Offerings increased again above the recent level for new cotton, and there were a little more holding toward the end of the week which supplied the buying and sent prices below the 10.30 level for that position. The unsettled ruling of the grain and stock markets may have accounted for some of the selling and the arrival of buyers to follow up the advance were aggressively. The under-ton, however, was quite generally referred to as steady and the buying on decline was encouraged by rather more favorable reports from the cotton goods markets.

On the whole the market has appeared to indicate a better than the expectation that present price levels will react heavily in the long run on consumption and production, and a feeling that pending a further improvement in general trade conditions, advances are hardly likely to be maintained until a larger proportion of the crop has been marketed. There was little definite comment on reports from the meeting of the cotton trade in New Orleans on Monday, but this factor evidently failed to stimulate immediate demand while the price predictions toward the end of the week were also without any appreciable effect.

The opinion is expressed in some quarters here that an early killing frost might lead to moderate revisions in estimates of production, the time as a whole seems to have been interested in the possibility of late-season changes in crop ideas than in the development of trade and the rate of marketing in the south. Investment sentiment is more or less in evidence among traders here based upon the prevailing price and the expectation that the will be a reduction in average next spring unless the market advances in the meantime. This has found its chief expression, according to local brokers, however, in trade or speculative buying on the declines or on scale down orders, and the bulges of the past week were said to be meeting a little more southern coming goods was reported in Manchester toward the end of the week, while there were also reports of more business in the domestic market.

Produce

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Butter, $1.34; firm; cheese 175.81¢; uncotted, stale, whole milk, 1.5¢; fresh, fancy to fancy special 206.24¢.

Eggs, 12.96¢; steady; mixed colors unchilled, Pacific coast white shell, fresh graded firsts 27¢; current receipts 228.29¢; ordinary current receipts 19.21¢.

Poultry, alive 2 cars, 24 trucks, easier; fowls 15.16¢; spring 17.19¢; turkeys 16¢; broiling turkeys 28¢; spring ducks 14.17¢.

Potatoes, 101, on track 400; total United States, 1.02¢; slightly stronger, trading fair. Wisconsin, 1.02¢; central section 1.02¢; 65¢; Antigo section 1.02¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Cabbages, 1.80¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Onions, 1.40¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Carrots, 1.20¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Turnips, 1.20¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Apples, 1.40¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Oranges, 1.40¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Chicory, by freight 16.40¢; 20¢; express 12.17¢; 20¢; roots, freight 12.60¢; express 12.17¢; roots, freight 12.60¢; express 12.17¢.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Butter, 5.51¢; steaks, 1.00¢; uncotted, stale, whole milk, 1.5¢; fresh, fancy to fancy special 206.24¢; ordinary current receipts 19.21¢.

Poultry, alive 2 cars, 24 trucks, easier; fowls 15.16¢; spring 17.19¢; turkeys 16¢; broiling turkeys 28¢; spring ducks 14.17¢.

Potatoes, 101, on track 400; total United States, 1.02¢; slightly stronger, trading fair. Wisconsin, 1.02¢; central section 1.02¢; 65¢; Antigo section 1.02¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Cabbages, 1.80¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Onions, 1.40¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Carrots, 1.20¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Turnips, 1.20¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Apples, 1.40¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Oranges, 1.40¢; 65¢; fancy shade high.

Chicory, by freight 16.40¢; 20¢; express 12.17¢; 20¢; roots, freight 12.60¢; express 12.17¢.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(P)—The cotton market has had rather an irregular week with prices fluctuating on a comparatively moderate volume of business. An accumulation of cotton was reported over the Co-jumbus Day adjournment caused a decline early in the week, but the offerings were absorbed by trade or speculative buying and there were sales later on covering.

Offerings increased again above the recent level for new cotton, and there were a little more holding toward the end of the week which supplied the buying and sent prices below the 10.30 level for that position. The unsettled ruling of the grain and stock markets may have accounted for some of the selling and the arrival of buyers to follow up the advance were aggressively. The under-ton, however, was quite generally referred to as steady and the buying on decline was encouraged by rather more favorable reports from the cotton goods markets.

On the whole the market has appeared to indicate a better than the expectation that present price levels will react heavily in the long run on consumption and production, and a feeling that pending a further improvement in general trade conditions, advances are hardly likely to be maintained until a larger proportion of the crop has been marketed. There was little definite comment on reports from the meeting of the cotton trade in New Orleans on Monday, but this factor evidently failed to stimulate immediate demand while the price predictions toward the end of the week were also without any appreciable effect.

The opinion is expressed in some quarters here that an early killing frost might lead to moderate revisions in estimates of production, the time as a whole seems to have been interested in the possibility of late-season changes in crop ideas than in the development of trade and the rate of marketing in the south. Investment sentiment is more or less in evidence among traders here based upon the prevailing price and the expectation that the will be a reduction in average next spring unless the market advances in the meantime. This has found its chief expression, according to local brokers, however, in trade or speculative buying on the declines or on scale down orders, and the bulges of the past week were said to be meeting a little more southern coming goods was reported in Manchester toward the end of the week, while there were also reports of more business in the domestic market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Cotton fluctuated within a narrow range with the under-ton, however, showing a slight decline after a few scattered early hedging but this was soon offset by moderate mill and trade buying, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

Cotton Letters.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The reactions in other markets had little or no effect on the market, other than to reduce the volume of trading. The price levels, however, held remarkably steady with fluctuations confined to a small range and hedging fluctuated narrowly until it closed.

The news in circulation and developments in the market were to the buying side and probably accounts for much of steadiness. Hedging was light.

EPWORTH LETTERS.

JENNER & BEANE.

Stirling Is Best of Heavies But Can Find Nothing To Do

NO FOE LEFT SINCE CARNERA TOOK RUN OUT

Primo Left Italians Broke in Boston; Sharkey Is Through.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(UP)—A telegram from Vittorio Campolo, who passed through Rio de Janeiro to return to Buenos Aires, announced his return in December to re-enter the heavyweight competition. But is there any competition? Are there any heavyweights? Didn't the last one of any consequence depart when Primo Carnera and his gang came to town? And count of the punch up in Boston the other day and broke every Italian in town at the odds of 4 to 1.

PRIMO SHOCKED 'EM.

When Primo took to the run after losing to Jimmy Maloney, it must have been of some shock to some of the sports writers who were to a man in on the champion-ship by elimination.

Max Schmeling, they say, is coming back in December, too. But after his run-out on a second match with Jack Sharkey there is little interest in the German and no disposition to recognize him as champion of anything closer than the Liederkrantz works.

The best of the lot right now is Young Stirling. The Georgia boy has made good at last, and if they match him with Campolo in Florida in February, Billy will pop over the tall Argentine in short order. Meanwhile, he is more than a match for anyone these parts. Stirling is out. So are most of the others who were regarded as possibilities.

NEW CROP COMING.

This stagnant situation in the heavyweight ranks, which is quite all right with most fans as long as they keep the manhole cover on tight, has made it possible for the crop of He-man hopefuls to hope for a chance to reach the top. For more years than you would believe to look at them, such faithful sons of the old sod as Jack McAufile and Tom O'Rourke have been seeking throughout Ireland for a real champion, and when they find one, they might be built into a champion.

McAufile, the former undefeated lightweight champion of the world, has indorsed several prospects, but they have all had a tinge of the Beckett and a whiff of the Scotts and had to be retired to the peat bogs.

Now Tom O'Rourke believes he has a real champion in Pat Redmond from Tipperary, six-foot-four without a hand, weight 250 pounds, with a hand as hard and nearly as large as the blarney stone. Redmond will be watched closely by many a hopeful rish fight fan, but it may prove that there's more blarney than stone in his fist.

JOSE SANTA.

Then there's Jose Santa, named Jose Santa who is just a little larger all around than Primo Carnera, and twice as ugly. They are using the old Luis Angel Firpo method on Santa, having him bat down the boys in the back-alley fight clubs until the time looks right for the ballyhoo.

There's a walloping young ex-entrant champion named Figueira, who did a neat job on Bill Tex Sandino this week, but Ralph, a little bit on the small side. But he has big ideas, and, as he says himself, "he's a good as he thinks he is."

But by and large, the crop is about the poorest ever known, and even the best, or even the best in a championship fight, the suggestion is ridiculous. They said Schmeling wasn't champion because he won on a grime and saved himself by swift flight to Germany; Sharkey was barred because he turned down a Carnera fight offered to him—dare I say it? Maloney? Perhaps this makes Shamus the big fish-monger the real champ. But, oy, the many men, the second and fifth rates, who have licked Maloney lately! Let's talk about football.

CADETS READY FOR NAVY TILT

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 17.—A long signal drill late this afternoon ended G. A.'s preparation for Saturday's game with the Navy Plebes, which will be a curtain-raiser to the Duke-Navy clash.

The Cadets from College Park, Ga., arrived Thursday in time for a long limbering-up session, after which they retired early and visited the naval training reservation this morning.

The Plebe coaches took their squad to another practice field this afternoon in order to give the southerners a chance to get acquainted with the playing field.

G. A. will not be affected by the climate, as warm, clear weather is predicted for Saturday's game. The southerners rule favorites by reason of their stout line. The Plebes have been defeated twice by prep school teams.

Better-Fitting $6 Men's SHOES For Only

Fulton High Bows To La Grange, 31-3

LAGRANGE, Ga., Oct. 17.—The breaks of the game and a well-perfected aerial attack netted La Grange High a 31-3 victory over Fulton High, of Atlanta, here Friday afternoon.

In the first two minutes of play, Smith, La Grange end, intercepted a pass on Fulton's 10-yard line, from where the ball was backed over in three plays. The ball was lost until La Grange began a march from its 22-yard line for another touchdown. Harris passing to Smith for 22 yards for the marker. A blocked punt was recovered by Wright accounted for La Grange's third touch- down. Wood, brilliant 40-yard return of a kick-off led to another touchdown in the third quarter. A series of passes brought the locals their fifth touchdown. Smith, Fulton end, accounted for the visitors' three points when he drop-kicked a field goal from a difficult angle in the final period.

The highway department also reports that all roads between Atlanta and Athens are in good shape, so that those who favor the automobile may follow their choice.

For La Grange, Frosolone, H. White, Wood, Smith, Priester, and E. White were outstanding. Shorty Roberts, Smith and Rooks were the mainstays in the Fulton lineup.

Yesterday's Results

Oglethorpe	8	Dayton	6
Georgia	75	Capital	12
Clarendon	75	Missouri	7
Swansea	15	University of Miss.	7
Marquette	6	Ashland	12
Lowell	19	Lander	6
Bucks County	75	Tarpon Springs	5
Bradenton	14	Springer	5
Montgomery	29	Baker	61
Bethany	6	Georgia	15
Georgetown	22	Union	16
Brown	22	West Virginia	9
Detroit	22	Xavier	0
Centre	6	North Carolina	0
Southwestern	24	Howard	0
Lowell	22	Howard College	9
Duquesne	14	Moorehead	0
Kentucky	42	Georgia	0
Bethany	22	Georgia	0
Tellico	6	Findlay	14
Kemper	6	Chillicothe	14
Elkhorn	6	Georgia	0
Howard Payne College	26	Austin	7
Georgia Washington	26	South Dakota	6
West Carroll	15	Mississippi	7
John Carroll	15	Michigan	7
Michigan	14	Georgia	0
Catawba	12	Fort Bragg	0
Danville	27	Montgomery	0
Danville College	23	Simmons	23
Oklahoma City	6	Arkansas	0
Georgia	22	Wichita Falls	0
Cox	20	Mississippi	0
Drake	20	Montgomery	0
St. Louis	6	Rockford	0
Missouri Miners	33	Missouri Valley	7
Lakeland	14	West Texas	0
Tampa	21	Dayton	12
Lakeland	14	Dayton Teachers C.	0

TARHEELS FACE GEORGIA TODAY IN GREAT TEST

Bulldogs Hold Edge as Teams Line Up in Athens.

Continued from First Sport Page.

house parties and shook their slippers at dances later on.

ON THE WAY.

The main body will arrive tomorrow by special trains from Atlanta and from Macon. The railroads again are collecting heavily on account of lack of suitable hard surfaced roads leading to Athens.

General L. G. Hardman is expected to arrive here tomorrow accompanied by Mrs. Hardman and his office personnel.

Governor-elect Richard B. Russell, class of 1918, sub., will come over from Winder to complete the political picture.

Prospects are bright, as they say, for a high scoring game with both sides sprinting wildly across the goal lines and an epidemic of heart failure in the middle of the field. The two sides will be using the Notre Dame system: That is, North Carolina quite frankly and many shrewdly suspect that Georgia also uses Rockne plays.

These plays are designed to score touchdowns from long range as well as from close in. Both Georgia and North Carolina have run 95 yards for touchdowns either.

The rival teams fairly bristle with young men who can pick up their feet and put them down very rapidly.

BOYS ARE AWAY.

Anticipating the confusion of a pre-battle evening, Coach Harry Mehre sent his boys through a two-hour work-out on Sanford field then bunched them up and shipped the whole to a dormitory in the city. They will hear none of the hollering roar that is rocking Athens tonight.

Coach Chuck Collins went on farther to protect his young Tarheels from the exciting contacts and jarring sounds. He halted his army in Gainesville today and worked out on one of the football fields at Riverside Military academy.

The next evening will be spent there and tomorrow they will be down on a special train via the Southern railway. Another special bringing a band of Carolina supporters will arrive noon to add a defiant note to the gridiron tomorrow, after all.

MEET OUT.

The fast-stepping Gene McEvier, All-American halfback of 1929, who ruined the Tide last year for a touch down, really sees his own little chance of playing, however. His knee gave way under him again the other day in scrimmage, and he had to be carried from the field.

Those halfbacks, Hug and Borden, who, respectively, are known as the best and the best in the last season, are also reported as unable to play tomorrow. If none of these three men are able to enter the game, Tennessee will undoubtedly be under a severe handicap.

Now, however, the Vols are sure to present a formidable enough line-up. Hobby Dobb, great punter, deadly passer and with the finest quarterback brain the south has produced in many a day, is a whole team in himself. Then there is "Buddy" Sasse, the great running mate and considered by many quality experts just as brilliant as ever.

STOUT WALL.

The forward wall of the Neylandites is big and experienced, a match in most respects for Alabama's maddening line and a battle royal looms in the front trenches.

Anyhow, whatever happens tomorrow, somebody will be disappointed. You can bank on that.

TECHNICAL.

Coach Mehre indicated that he would start his varsity lineup against the Tarheels tomorrow with three changes.

Tiger Bennett, once a substitute guard, will be sent into action paired with "Red" Maddox.

Bennett earned this honor by his great play against Yale last Saturday.

Vase McWhorter, tall and fast, has been selected to start at center instead of Spero Tassopoulos. McWhorter is adept at dropping back to break up forward passes. One sees in this change a move to counteract the dangerous Tarheel aerial game.

STOINOFF SET.

And at fullback, Joe Stoinoff, who smelt powder in the Yale Bowl by starting at fullback and taking the ball out of the Blue on his broad shoulders, has been nominated to go. As at Yale, Jack Rutherford is big, powerful, and will be held out.

It has been with no little difficulty that Coach Mehre has worked his team up to a pitch of excitement for the game tomorrow. The natural let-down following the Yale victory and the unavoidable amount of conversation in the locker room and the sidewalks sort of obscured the fact that North Carolina was bringing a formidable football team to Athens for a game that counts in the conference championship.

Both teams seem to have done very well in keeping them up, perhaps due to another attack from the Tarheels will bring the Bulldogs up to fighting pitch.

PADS LINE.

Coach Collins made a few changes throughout the game. In first downs the Petrels were exactly as good as Dayton. The Petrels ran up ten first downs while Dayton was getting five.

While the Petrel offense has been selected it was nevertheless quite puzzling to see the Petrels seven men, seven men, as skill and an exactness which made their plays twice as deceptive as usual.

The offense was good enough to push the ball 232 yards down the field. Only a bad break in the luck of the Petrels from making another touchdown.

Dayton was able to run up 95 yards from scrimmage against the stout defense of the Petrels.

The fighting spirit of the southern team elicited much praise from the thousands who watched the night game. They played an inspired game and deservedly won. Dayton was playing without the services of one regular but Oglethorpe seemed to have the better team generally.

The victory tonight was the second scored over Dayton in two years, the Petrels losing to the Petrels at Atlanta, 20-12.

AN INNOCENT PHILOSOPHIZES

Continued from First Sport Page.

run funny. If I hadn't got lost I'd have made the perfect speech.

We sure had one in Auburn. After the pre-meeting we all put on pajamas and stopped the cars as they came by school.

"NOT BAD, ANYHOW."

"I don't guess we'll lose by a big score if we lose."

Knute Rockne said that Florida would be beaten in the first game.

"And they didn't. Next year we'll have a great team. We've got 15 rats out for the team. We'll have more football players than Notre Dame."

"I guess Atlanta must be bigger than Birmingham. It looks like it. They have so many big buildings here. Some of them are the Seaboard railway is running two special trains, one leaving at 8:15 o'clock this morning, the other at 11:01 o'clock.

"The boys are getting in," he said.

"There's two of them get in."

When the first train gets in there'll be about 10 thousand here I guess.

"Well, I got to go to see if Dodge got here. I guess we'll win tomorrow. I sure hope so."

The highway department also reports that all roads between

Atlanta and Athens are in good shape, so that those who favor

the automobile may follow their choice.

For La Grange, Frosolone, H. White, Wood, Smith, Priester, and E. White were outstanding. Shorty Roberts, Smith and Rooks were the mainstays in the Fulton lineup.

Special Trains For Athens Game

Atlanta's supporters of the Georgia Bulldogs may travel to the scene of the Georgia-North Carolina game as they will to do.

The Seaboard railway is running two special trains, one leaving at 8:15 o'clock this

Army, Yale, Penn and Notre Dame Should Win Today, Roper Says

DAY'S GRIDIRON CARD SPARKLES WITH CLASSICS

Princeton, Rated Underdog, Will Fight Cornell to Last Ditch.

By Bill Roper,
Princeton Coach.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17.—There is a great football bill in the east this Saturday. The Army and a new team meet Harvard. Last year these teams battled to a 20-20 tie. The Army, though minus the services of Cagle, has a well-rounded offense and a fast-charging line. Harvard has a brilliant lateral passing attack and the best forward passer in the east. I favor the Army by a close score.

Brown, with a powerful line, meets Yale at New Haven. Yale is a strong team. It will be a case of the Yale line against the Yale backfield. I look for a close game, but I believe Yale has the power and reserve strength to win.

Bucknell will have no difficulty with St. Thomas. Carnegie Tech, after its surprise showing against George Tech, undoubtedly will give Princeton a hard time. Against the Navy, Notre Dame put on the field 120 football players, and in preliminary practice nine centers were passing at one time to nine fullbacks. I doubt if Carnegie Tech will be able to stand up against this unlimited man power.

COLGATE LIKED.

Colgate, with a high-scoring team, meets Michigan State at East Lansing. After Lafayette, I favor them to win, though Michigan will undoubtedly put up a good game.

Princeton-Dartmouth meet at Hanover in their first test. Both teams have had little difficulty in their preliminary games. The home team holds advantage in this game, and I look for Dartmouth to win by a close score.

Cornell comes to Princeton with the best team Dohie has coached in several years. Cornell, with a strong running attack, Princeton is untried and undeveloped, but will fight hard. I look for a close game, even though scores of this fall favor Cornell.

Haverford and Franklin-Marsh should win from Kenyon and Ursinus. Penn State and Gettysburg look too strong for Lafayette and Lehigh.

NAVY TO WIN.

Duke undoubtedly will give the Navy a hard tussle at Annapolis. The Midshipmen learned a lot at South Bend, and should win. N. Y. U. looks too strong for Missouri.

Pennsylvania puts its first test at Madison, where it plays Wisconsin. From all accounts, Penn has a great team. The trip is a tiresome one and Penn has not met any real opposition so far. The game will be close, with the odds slightly favoring Penn.

It looks as if Syracuse has a chance to defeat Penn. Stanford should win from Washington, though I believe Temple is strong enough to defeat W. & J. This game, however, should be a very close one. Boston college looks a trifle more powerful than the others.

The most interesting bill in the Big Six is Kansas and Kansas Aggies. Kansas is groomed as a strong contenders for Missouri Valley honors. This is the first conference game for both teams. Kansas has a fine fullback; Jim Baugh, Lee, a team. But McMillin's Aggies upset Kansas, but I guess it the other way now.

Nebraska should come back strong after its disastrous journey to Oklahoma, and take Iowa State. But Coach Workman has had two weeks since his game at Illinois to develop an offense, and Iowa State will be a contender.

Missouri seems destined to take another one in the chin at New York, and Oklahoma may find the going hard against Texas at Dallas, although I pick the Sooners, who looked good against Nebraska.

At Chicago Coach Stagg has had to make over his offense with the disability of his captain, Van Noy. Florida, if anything like as strong as last year, will probably win.

Illinois Eleven May Surprise, Hints Zuppke

Tribe's Mentor by No Means Concedes Game To Northwestern—Badgers, Irish Liked.

By Bob Zuppke,

Football Coach, University of Illinois. (Copyright, 1930, by The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance.) URBANA, Ill., Oct. 17.—The most important inter-Big Ten football game this week seems to be that between Northwestern and Illinois. They chop off your head quickly in Big Ten competition and Purdue, last year's champion; Ohio State, Chicago and Indiana have already bowed to other conference teams.

Northwestern, off to a flying start with a decisive win over Ohio State, is of course the general favorite. Coach Henley says Rockne and I put him "on the spot" by playing up the prospects of his team to reach the championship. But Northwestern's losses were the least severe of any Big Ten squad from last year's team, and Henley has 17 lettermen or so, compared for instance, to the 11 at Illinois.

Harvard has a strong, veteran line and a backfield of speed and size. It was a tough break to have his captain, Hank Bruder, taken down with smallpox, but he has other good backs, as evidenced by their work against Ohio State. Strangely, Illinois' captain, Tom Robinson—a fullback, too—has been disabled for three weeks, and if he does play, can hardly be at his best.

Northwestern outclasses us on paper with the experienced personnel. Will that be sufficient? We'll find out Saturday.

Pennsylvania visits us with a bang up team. Wisconsin's scoring against Chicago was the most impressive in the Big Ten so far. That game may not have been a hard test, but probably stacks up with Penn's preliminary showings. Penn has two highly reputed backs, E. Gentle and M. McNamee, of Ohio, and the other Badgers will show something.

Boys' High, Lanier Fight Through Spectacular Scoreless Game.

PURPLE, POETS BATTLE TO TIE

Boys' High, Lanier Fight Through Spectacular Scoreless Game.

Throwing every ounce of energy and the sweater off, it is a bang up team. Wisconsin's scoring against Chicago was the most impressive in the Big Ten so far. That game may not have been a hard test, but probably stacks up with Penn's preliminary showings. Penn has two highly reputed backs, E. Gentle and M. McNamee, of Ohio, and the other Badgers will show something.

Boys' High has the two golden opportunities to score and both slip, while Lanier High failed to take advantage of a lone chance.

There was little to choose between the two teams, with both Coach Buck and Lanier and Coach Doyal, of Boys' High, used practically every player in uniform in an effort to turn the tie in any close game.

Boys' High had two golden opportunities to score and both slip, while Lanier High failed to take advantage of a lone chance.

Late in the first period, Rhodenbiser, a varsity Lanier back, intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the first half were both 'breaks' in the second half, and the losers were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

The third quarter was largely a punting duel between McKinley, of Boys' High, and Clark, of Lanier. Both averaged more than 35 yards per boot and it was the long kicks that kept the two teams out of danger.

ANOTHER INTERCEPTION.

In the second quarter Brumbaugh intercepted Burnett's pass and ran 42 yards before being overtaken by Burnett on Lanier's 41-yard line. Those two plays constituted the first scoring threats, but 'breaks' in the second half were fighting for an opening.

PFAFF IS ELECTED TYPHETAE HEAD

BOSTON, Oct. 17. (UPI)—William Pfaff, of New Orleans, a director of the

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

Schedule Published as Information
(Central Standard Time)

ATLANTA, 10:45 A. M. STATION.

Arrives 10:45 A. M. & C. R. B. Leaves

7:30 p.m. Cerdle-Warren 10:45 a.m.

11:45 a.m. New Orleans-Montgomery 8:30 a.m.

4:30 p.m. Montgomery 10:30 a.m.

5:30 a.m. New Orleans-Montgomery 6:05 p.m.

3:15 p.m. Montgomery 6:05 p.m.

Arrives 5:30 p.m. G. of G. B. Leaves

10:00 a.m. Mac-Al-Bell 7:30 a.m.

11:00 a.m. Columbus 8:00 a.m.

12:00 p.m. Macon 9:00 a.m.

1:00 p.m. Atlanta 10:00 a.m.

2:00 p.m. Columbus 12:30 p.m.

3:00 p.m. Tampa-Ba-M-Tamp 7:25 p.m.

7:25 a.m. N. Wash-Rich-Nor 7:05 p.m.

7:25 a.m. Jax-Mac-Al-Bell 9:05 p.m.

7:25 p.m. Macon-Albany 11:30 p.m.

Arrives 8:00 a.m. SOUTHERN RAIL-WAY

5:20 a.m. Col-Wash-X-Ash-Bell 12:10 p.m.

8:15 p.m. Amstion-Birmingham 6:30 a.m.

6:30 p.m. Birmingham 6:30 a.m.

6:30 p.m. Greenville-Charle 7:05 p.m.

7:05 p.m. Valdosta-Brunswick 7:05 p.m.

7:20 p.m. Atlanta-K. & T. 7:15 p.m.

4:00 p.m. Piedmont Limited 7:05 p.m.

7:10 p.m. Columbus 8:00 a.m.

8:40 p.m. Crescent Limited 12:00 p.m.

12:10 p.m. Richmond-Wash-N. 8:00 a.m.

11:10 a.m. Fort Valley 4:05 p.m.

11:15 a.m. Columbus 4:15 p.m.

12:00 p.m. Macon-Albany 4:15 p.m.

12:00 p.m. Bax-B. C. Dever 4:15 p.m.

7:50 a.m. Air Line Bell 7:00 a.m.

8:15 a.m. Cu-Louis-Cat-Det 7:00 a.m.

7:45 a.m. Mac-Al-Bell 7:00 a.m.

7:00 a.m. W. Wash-Rich-Nor 7:00 a.m.

7:00 a.m. Jax-Mac-Al-Bell 7:00 a.m.

6:55 a.m. Brunswick-Jaxville 8:00 a.m.

5:30 a.m. Bax-B. C. Dever 8:00 a.m.

5:30 a.m. Every train arrive and depart from Pacific Station Only.

9:00 a.m. Washington-New York 8:00 a.m.

11:00 a.m. UNION PASSENGER STATION.

GEORGIA RAILROAD

Arrives 12:45 p.m. Atlanta 7:00 a.m.

5:35 p.m. Augusta 7:25 p.m.

7:35 a.m. Social Circle 5:55 p.m.

8:35 a.m. Macon-Albany 5:55 p.m.

6:30 a.m. Chat-Nash-Chicago-St. L. 9:00 a.m.

6:30 a.m. Chat-Nash-St. L. 9:00 a.m.

6:30 a.m. Chat-Nash-St. L. 9:00 a.m.

Bus Schedule

BUSES to all cities, low fares. Union Bus Station, 17 N. Forsyth. JA. 6790.

Go to Church Sunday

BAPTIST BAPTIST

BAPTIST TABERNACLE

11 A. M.—Sermon by Mell Trotter, Evangelist

7:30 P. M.—Major Norman F. Marshall of the Salvation Army will speak on "Overcomers." Special music by Brass and String Bands. Vocal duet by Capt. and Mrs. Howard

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Peabody and Fourth Streets

Ellis A. Fuller, Pastor

Bible School for All Ages, Mr. J. F. Durrett, Supt. 10:00 A. M.

Morning Worship, with sermon by the Pastor. 10:50 A. M.

B. Y. P. U. S., Mr. H. G. Givens, Weekley, Director. 6:30 P. M.

Evening Worship, with sermon by the Pastor. 7:30 P. M.

CHORUS CHOIR OF THIRTY VOICES

Mr. George Lee Hamrick, Organist and Chorister

PONCE DE LEON BAPTIST

Peabody Road at Wesley Avenue

DR. LUTHER RICE CHRISTIE, Pastor

11:00 A. M.—"The Curriculum of Grace."

7:30 P. M.—"Leaving Home."

PRESBYTERIAN PRESBYTERIAN

Practiced and 16th

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be held

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 19,

In the Chapel, corner of North Boulevard and North Avenue, one block south of Peachtree Avenue.

There will be three public services, 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

ELDER JOSEPH FIELDING SMITH,

of Salt Lake City, one of the leaders of the Mormon Church, will deliver a sermon at one of the meetings. The public is cordially invited. Special vocal and instrumental music will be rendered.

LUTHERAN LUTHERAN

Lutheran Church of the Redeemer

Trinity Ave. and Capitol Street

Rev. JOHN L. YOST, Pastor

9:45 A. M.—Bible School

11:00 A. M.—Address by Pastor—Subject: "What God Requires"

5:00 P. M.—Radio Vesper—Address by Pastor—Subject: "A Reasonable Faith"—Broadcast over WSB through the courtesy of the Atlanta Journal.

VISITORS WELCOME

UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST

United Liberal Church

Unitarian Universalist

669 W. Peachtree, N. E.

Aubrey F. Hess, Ph.D., Minister.

SUNDAY MORNING 11 O'CLOCK SERMON SUBJECT: "THE WORLD'S GREATEST INVESTMENT." This is something you should hear.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

PEACHTREE AND FIFTEENTH STREETS

SUNDAY, 11 A. M. and 5:30 P. M.—Subject: "Doctrine of Atonement."

SUNDAY SCHOOL, 11 A. M.

WEDNESDAY, 8 P. M.—Teachments of Christian Science Healing.

Reading Room open daily from 9:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m., Wednesdays, 2:00 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., Sundays, 2:30 to 6:30 p. m. 2172 Peachtree Street.

PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED

SECOND CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

669 W. Peachtree, N. E.

Aubrey F. Hess, Ph.D., Minister.

SUNDAY MORNING 11 O'CLOCK SERMON SUBJECT: "THE WORLD'S GREATEST INVESTMENT." This is something you should hear.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

PEACHTREE AND FIFTEENTH STREETS

SUNDAY, 11 A. M. and 5:30 P. M.—Subject: "Doctrine of Atonement."

SUNDAY SCHOOL, 11 A. M. and 5:30 P. M.—Subject: "Doctrine of Atonement."

WEDNESDAY, 8 P. M.—Teachments of Christian Science Healing.

Reading Room open daily from 9:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m., Sunday, 2:00 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., Sundays, 2:30 to 6:30 p. m. 2172 Peachtree Street.

PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED

the United States Chamber of Commerce, was elected president of the United Typothetae of America here today as the organization's convention closed. He succeeds George R. Keller, of Detroit, who retired.

The convention went on record as for any class of mail, urged the government to discontinue selling printed return envelopes and advocated greater attention to research work in the printing industry.

Chilly Winds Ready To Send Mercury Low

Healed by the weather man and a wind of slowly increasing velocity, the first real touch of cold weather is scheduled to arrive in Atlanta early this morning, sending thermometers down to today and possibly three days below Sunday. The range will be between 46 and 55 and in contrast with a high of 76 and a low of 62 Friday.

Although bitter to remind that winter—like spring—is just around the corner, more fair and warmer days are expected next week. Today will be fair with a high of 68 and a breeze expected to blow most of the time.

CANNON CIRCULATES EXPLANATION OF SUIT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (UPI)—A statement summarizing his $5,000,000 libel action against William Randolph Hearst was issued today by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

The document is to be given a wide distribution, the bishop said, among the members of his church.

It recited at length the particulars of his suit, filed yesterday, accusing Hearst of attempting to discredit him and malign his wife, the Rev. Mrs. Helen Hawley Cannon.

Asked what steps had been taken to serve papers on Hearst and whether service could be legally accomplished outside the District of Columbia, Bishop Cannon said that was in the hands of his attorney.

Hail Whips New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—A small, thin, black, two-wheeled carriage, accompanied by a small boy, drove over New Orleans today shortly after noon at the rate of 15 miles an hour, piling up an inch of rain in 15 minutes and showering hailstones on the uptown sections. The temperature dropped 11 degrees from 81 to 70 degrees.

Help Wanted

WANTED—A man to drive a carriage.

WANTED—A man to drive a

</

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE No. 84

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When Tarzan refused the crown of Caesar, he lost no time but assembled five thousand warriors and started his march on Castrum Mare. The white plumes of the Waziri nodded at his back as he led his army out of Castra Sanguinarii along the hot and dusty Via Mare. The Waziri were chanting their battle songs.

MERCHANTISE

ROOMS AND BOARD

Household Goods 59

FOR SALE—COMPLETE HIGH-GRADE FURNISHINGS 8-ROOM HOUSE, AT SAGAMORE, 1000 FT. FROM BEACH.

FURNITURE—SHELF MR. COLEMAN AT WOODSIDE STORAGE CO., 250 EDGWOOD AV., AT 10TH ST. IN ATLANTA, OCT. 20, 10 TO 12 A. M. 4-5 & 7 P. M.

HOTPOINT—full automatic electric range. Equipped with Hi-speed Calred unit. Thrift cooker, new surface units. White enamel, 36 in. wide, 36 in. deep. $107.50 for short while as demonstrator. $107.50 installed and connected in your home. Small deposit, $10.00, 18 months to pay balance. 53 Fairlie street.

ELECTRIC store bargain. Westinghouse automatic senior cabinet range, slightly used. $100.00. Westinghouse electric water heater and tank. $100. 48 Briarcliff circle. HE. 7500-M.

WESTINGHOUSE Junior Convector electric range. 8-plate, 36 in. wide. Zone oven. A. 10 porcelain. $100 connected in your home. Liberal terms, 53 Fairlie street.

HOTPOINT—automatic electric range. The best in fact. Completely installed in your home for only $75. Liberal terms.

WONDERFUL saving for restaurant or sandwich shop. Edison electric range. Three and a half top, 14-inch oven. Only $99.00. 10% down, 18 months to pay balance. 53 Fairlie street.

WONDERFUL bargain. Georgia electric range. Three and a half top, 14-inch oven. Only $99.00. 10% down, 18 months to pay balance. 53 Fairlie street.

OLD-TIME laid work quilt for sale. Will make any design. Also embossed, appliqued, etc. Mrs. Lulu Jackson, 107 Peachtree, Atlanta, Ga.

RUGS—Selling at their usual value all RUGS this week. Base Furniture Co., 182 Mitchell St., S. W., MA. 5123.

TRADE OLD furniture for new. Acree-Kornegay Furniture, co., 102 Pryor, S. W. WA. 8814. Good used furniture, cheap, at 414 Edgewood. Virtue Trans. & Storage Co.

Musical Merchandise 62

PHONOGRAPH & RADIO REPAIRING

Prompt and Efficient Service. Phillips & Crew. Atlanta, Ga.

RITTER MUSIC CO., distributors. Fine concert and orchestra instruments. Fine con-

Georgia Bankhead Cities Dedicate Highway Paving

Atlanta Motorcaders Join in Austell Celebration. Mayor and Congressmen Are Speakers.

Approximately 3,000 persons from Atlanta, Decatur, Carrollton and Douglasville were guests of the city of Austell Friday afternoon at exercises "celebrating formal opening of the eight-mile paved stretch of the highway connecting the Chattahoochee river and Austell, the first completed section of the highway in Georgia.

A mile-long motorcade, organized and sponsored by the Atlanta Motor Club, left Atlanta at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon, consisting of 100 guest cars, city and county police escorts, a Georgia Power Company double-deck coach carrying the Tech High school band, and the chiefs of the police and fire departments. It arrived at Austell at 3:30 p.m. The motorcaders were met by cars from Carrollton, Austell and Douglasville—about equal in number to the procession of motorists from this city—and the long line of automobiles was reformed under the leadership of the car bearing Charles J. Shelverton, Mayor of Austell.

Visitors Welcomed.

Entering Austell, the Atlanta visitors were greeted by long lines of school children who stood with tiny American flags at their shoulders, while the citizens of Austell roared a welcoming wave of applause after passing through the main business section of the city, the motorcade proceeded to the reviewing stand at the baseball field, where the cars were parked in a great square, and the exercises began.

The visitors were welcomed to the city. Mayor Shelverton, who in a brief speech, declared that opening of the new stretch of paved highway between Austell and Atlanta served to bring closer those two communities. He expressed the hope that Atlantans would visit his community more frequently than ever before, and assured them of a hearty welcome.

Federal Supervision.

Congressman M. C. Carver, of the seventh district, who was in the capital address, asserted it was his ultimate hope to see the federal government take over and maintain such highways as the Bankhead route. He declared that while at present there exists more or less widespread opposition to the idea of sole maintenance of the highway by the federal government, it was his belief that his belief, not unlikely that in future such highways as the Bankhead route, which are used to a great extent by motorists from other states, would be maintained by the government.

J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads Association, in his address, traced the history of the Bankhead highway, calling that only 14 years ago the first stretch of the famous roadway had been built. Although at first intended only to stretch through Alabama and Georgia, he said, it now reaches from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Birmingham, and thence on

Old Ironsides May Visit Chicago World's Fair

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Old Ironsides may visit the Chicago World's Fair in 1933.

Now in the lake, it has been surveying the depth of the St. Lawrence river and the water route of the Great Lakes with a view to sending the Constitution to the fair from Boston.

The remodeled vessel will draw 20 feet, but already engineers have found some depths of only 14 feet in the St. Lawrence. If other means fail the historic vessel could be conveyed over shallow waters on pontoons.

A mile-long motorcade, organized and sponsored by the Atlanta Motor Club, left Atlanta at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon, consisting of 100 guest cars, city and county police escorts, a Georgia Power Company double-deck coach carrying the Tech High school band, and the chiefs of the police and fire departments. It arrived at Austell at 3:30 p.m. The motorcaders were met by cars from Carrollton, Austell and Douglasville—about equal in number to the procession of motorists from this city—and the long line of automobiles was reformed under the leadership of the car bearing Charles J. Shelverton, Mayor of Austell.

Visitors Welcomed.

Entering Austell, the Atlanta visitors were greeted by long lines of school children who stood with tiny American flags at their shoulders, while the citizens of Austell roared a welcoming wave of applause after passing through the main business section of the city, the motorcade proceeded to the reviewing stand at the baseball field, where the cars were parked in a great square, and the exercises began.

The visitors were welcomed to the city. Mayor Shelverton, who in a brief speech, declared that opening of the new stretch of paved highway between Austell and Atlanta served to bring closer those two communities. He expressed the hope that Atlantans would visit his community more frequently than ever before, and assured them of a hearty welcome.

Federal Supervision.

Congressman M. C. Carver, of the seventh district, who was in the capital address, asserted it was his ultimate hope to see the federal government take over and maintain such highways as the Bankhead route. He declared that while at present there exists more or less widespread opposition to the idea of sole maintenance of the highway by the federal government, it was his belief that his belief, not unlikely that in future such highways as the Bankhead route, which are used to a great extent by motorists from other states, would be maintained by the government.

J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads Association, in his address, traced the history of the Bankhead highway, calling that only 14 years ago the first stretch of the famous roadway had been built. Although at first intended only to stretch through Alabama and Georgia, he said, it now reaches from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Birmingham, and thence on to the Pacific coast. The newly opened stretch between the river and Austell marked the beginning, he said, of one of the most direct and safest highways in the United States.

Congressman Robert W. Ramspeck, of the first district, pointed out that a large part of the funds necessary for the construction of the eight-mile paved stretch had been raised by taxation in the south congressional district. Other speakers were Luther H. Stiles, of Anniston, president of the Birmingham-Austell Bankhead Highway Association; John S. Turner, highway commissioner of Alabama; Captain J. W. Barnett, of the Georgia highway commission; Judge C. E. Roop, of Carrollton; Goodloe Yancey, of the Atlanta Motor Club; and R. C. Broyles, Atlanta attorney.

A big open-air barbecue was served to the visitors following the speaking program, and Friday night street dancing featured the day's entertainment.

R. H. PRESSLY, SR., IS CRITICALLY ILL

The condition of R. H. Pressly, Sr., 62-year-old assistant chief of the fire department, was reported as "very poor" Friday night by Grady hospital officials.

Mr. Pressly, who was taken to the hospital Saturday, had suffered from a liver disorder, had grown gradually worse, it was said, and although he rallied slightly Friday morning, it was said that he had relapsed during the afternoon.

PRIVATE LOANS

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry.

W. M. LEWIS & CO.

4TH FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

3,000 Celebrate Completion of Atlanta-Austell Paving

Old Ironsides May Visit Chicago World's Fair

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Old Ironsides may visit the Chicago World's Fair in 1933.

Now in the lake, it has been surveying the depth of the St. Lawrence river and the water route of the Great Lakes with a view to sending the Constitution to the fair from Boston.

The remodeled vessel will draw 20 feet, but already engineers have found some depths of only 14 feet in the St. Lawrence. If other means fail the historic vessel could be conveyed over shallow waters on pontoons.

A mile-long motorcade, organized and sponsored by the Atlanta Motor Club, left Atlanta at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon, consisting of 100 guest cars, city and county police escorts, a Georgia Power Company double-deck coach carrying the Tech High school band, and the chiefs of the police and fire departments. It arrived at Austell at 3:30 p.m. The motorcaders were met by cars from Carrollton, Austell and Douglasville—about equal in number to the procession of motorists from this city—and the long line of automobiles was reformed under the leadership of the car bearing Charles J. Shelverton, Mayor of Austell.

Visitors Welcomed.

Entering Austell, the Atlanta visitors were greeted by long lines of school children who stood with tiny American flags at their shoulders, while the citizens of Austell roared a welcoming wave of applause after passing through the main business section of the city, the motorcade proceeded to the reviewing stand at the baseball field, where the cars were parked in a great square, and the exercises began.

The visitors were welcomed to the city. Mayor Shelverton, who in a brief speech, declared that opening of the new stretch of paved highway between Austell and Atlanta served to bring closer those two communities. He expressed the hope that Atlantans would visit his community more frequently than ever before, and assured them of a hearty welcome.

Federal Supervision.

Congressman M. C. Carver, of the seventh district, who was in the capital address, asserted it was his ultimate hope to see the federal government take over and maintain such highways as the Bankhead route. He declared that while at present there exists more or less widespread opposition to the idea of sole maintenance of the highway by the federal government, it was his belief, not unlikely that in future such highways as the Bankhead route, which are used to a great extent by motorists from other states, would be maintained by the government.

J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads Association, in his address, traced the history of the Bankhead highway, calling that only 14 years ago the first stretch of the famous roadway had been built. Although at first intended only to stretch through Alabama and Georgia, he said, it now reaches from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Birmingham, and thence on to the Pacific coast. The newly opened stretch between the river and Austell marked the beginning, he said, of one of the most direct and safest highways in the United States.

Congressman Robert W. Ramspeck, of the first district, pointed out that a large part of the funds necessary for the construction of the eight-mile paved stretch had been raised by taxation in the south congressional district. Other speakers were Luther H. Stiles, of Anniston, president of the Birmingham-Austell Bankhead Highway Association; John S. Turner, highway commissioner of Alabama; Captain J. W. Barnett, of the Georgia highway commission; Judge C. E. Roop, of Carrollton; Goodloe Yancey, of the Atlanta Motor Club; and R. C. Broyles, Atlanta attorney.

A big open-air barbecue was served to the visitors following the speaking program, and Friday night street dancing featured the day's entertainment.

R. H. PRESSLY, SR., IS CRITICALLY ILL

The condition of R. H. Pressly, Sr., 62-year-old assistant chief of the fire department, was reported as "very poor" Friday night by Grady hospital officials.

Mr. Pressly, who was taken to the hospital Saturday, had suffered from a liver disorder, had grown gradually worse, it was said, and although he rallied slightly Friday morning, it was said that he had relapsed during the afternoon.

3,000 Celebrate Completion of Atlanta-Austell Paving

Old Ironsides May Visit Chicago World's Fair

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Old Ironsides may visit the Chicago World's Fair in 1933.

Now in the lake, it has been surveying the depth of the St. Lawrence river and the water route of the Great Lakes with a view to sending the Constitution to the fair from Boston.

The remodeled vessel will draw 20 feet, but already engineers have found some depths of only 14 feet in the St. Lawrence. If other means fail the historic vessel could be conveyed over shallow waters on pontoons.

A mile-long motorcade, organized and sponsored by the Atlanta Motor Club, left Atlanta at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon, consisting of 100 guest cars, city and county police escorts, a Georgia Power Company double-deck coach carrying the Tech High school band, and the chiefs of the police and fire departments. It arrived at Austell at 3:30 p.m. The motorcaders were met by cars from Carrollton, Austell and Douglasville—about equal in number to the procession of motorists from this city—and the long line of automobiles was reformed under the leadership of the car bearing Charles J. Shelverton, Mayor of Austell.

Visitors Welcomed.

Entering Austell, the Atlanta visitors were greeted by long lines of school children who stood with tiny American flags at their shoulders, while the citizens of Austell roared a welcoming wave of applause after passing through the main business section of the city, the motorcade proceeded to the reviewing stand at the baseball field, where the cars were parked in a great square, and the exercises began.

The visitors were welcomed to the city. Mayor Shelverton, who in a brief speech, declared that opening of the new stretch of paved highway between Austell and Atlanta served to bring closer those two communities. He expressed the hope that Atlantans would visit his community more frequently than ever before, and assured them of a hearty welcome.

Federal Supervision.

Congressman M. C. Carver, of the seventh district, who was in the capital address, asserted it was his ultimate hope to see the federal government take over and maintain such highways as the Bankhead route. He declared that while at present there exists more or less widespread opposition to the idea of sole maintenance of the highway by the federal government, it was his belief, not unlikely that in future such highways as the Bankhead route, which are used to a great extent by motorists from other states, would be maintained by the government.

J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads Association, in his address, traced the history of the Bankhead highway, calling that only 14 years ago the first stretch of the famous roadway had been built. Although at first intended only to stretch through Alabama and Georgia, he said, it now reaches from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Birmingham, and thence on to the Pacific coast. The newly opened stretch between the river and Austell marked the beginning, he said, of one of the most direct and safest highways in the United States.

Congressman Robert W. Ramspeck, of the first district, pointed out that a large part of the funds necessary for the construction of the eight-mile paved stretch had been raised by taxation in the south congressional district. Other speakers were Luther H. Stiles, of Anniston, president of the Birmingham-Austell Bankhead Highway Association; John S. Turner, highway commissioner of Alabama; Captain J. W. Barnett, of the Georgia highway commission; Judge C. E. Roop, of Carrollton; Goodloe Yancey, of the Atlanta Motor Club; and R. C. Broyles, Atlanta attorney.

A big open-air barbecue was served to the visitors following the speaking program, and Friday night street dancing featured the day's entertainment.

R. H. PRESSLY, SR., IS CRITICALLY ILL

The condition of R. H. Pressly, Sr., 62-year-old assistant chief of the fire department, was reported as "very poor" Friday night by Grady hospital officials.

Mr. Pressly, who was taken to the hospital Saturday, had suffered from a liver disorder, had grown gradually worse, it was said, and although he rallied slightly Friday morning, it was said that he had relapsed during the afternoon.

A mile-long motorcade, organized and sponsored by the Atlanta Motor Club, left Atlanta at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon, consisting of 100 guest cars, city and county police escorts, a Georgia Power Company double-deck coach carrying the Tech High school band, and the chiefs of the police and fire departments. It arrived at Austell at 3:30 p.m. The motorcaders were met by cars from Carrollton, Austell and Douglasville—about equal in number to the procession of motorists from this city—and the long line of automobiles was reformed under the leadership of the car bearing Charles J. Shelverton, Mayor of Austell.

Visitors Welcomed.

Entering Austell, the Atlanta visitors were greeted by long lines of school children who stood with tiny American flags at their shoulders, while the citizens of Austell roared a welcoming wave of applause after passing through the main business section of the city, the motorcade proceeded to the reviewing stand at the baseball field, where the cars were parked in a great square, and the exercises began.

The visitors were welcomed to the city. Mayor Shelverton, who in a brief speech, declared that opening of the new stretch of paved highway between Austell and Atlanta served to bring closer those two communities. He expressed the hope that Atlantans would visit his community more frequently than ever before, and assured them of a hearty welcome.

Federal Supervision.

Congressman M. C. Carver, of the seventh district, who was in the capital address, asserted it was his ultimate hope to see the federal government take over and maintain such highways as the Bankhead route. He declared that while at present there exists more or less widespread opposition to the idea of sole maintenance of the highway by the federal government, it was his belief, not unlikely that in future such highways as the Bankhead route, which are used to a great extent by motorists from other states, would be maintained by the government.

J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads Association, in his address, traced the history of the Bankhead highway, calling that only 14 years ago the first stretch of the famous roadway had been built. Although at first intended only to stretch through Alabama and Georgia, he said, it now reaches from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Birmingham, and thence on to the Pacific coast. The newly opened stretch between the river and Austell marked the beginning, he said, of one of the most direct and safest highways in the United States.

Congressman Robert W. Ramspeck, of the first district, pointed out that a large part of the funds necessary for the construction of the eight-mile paved stretch had been raised by taxation in the south congressional district. Other speakers were Luther H. Stiles, of Anniston, president of the Birmingham-Austell Bankhead Highway Association; John S. Turner, highway commissioner of Alabama; Captain J. W. Barnett, of the Georgia highway commission; Judge C. E. Roop, of Carrollton; Goodloe Yancey, of the Atlanta Motor Club; and R. C. Broyles, Atlanta attorney.

A big open-air barbecue was served to the visitors following the speaking program, and Friday night street dancing featured the day's entertainment.

R. H. PRESSLY, SR., IS CRITICALLY ILL

The condition of R. H. Pressly, Sr., 62-year-old assistant chief of the fire department, was reported as "very poor" Friday night by Grady hospital officials.

Mr. Pressly, who was taken to the hospital Saturday, had suffered from a liver disorder, had grown gradually worse, it was said, and although he rallied slightly Friday morning, it was said that he had relapsed during the afternoon.

A mile-long motorcade, organized and sponsored by the Atlanta Motor Club, left Atlanta at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon, consisting of 100 guest cars, city and county police escorts, a Georgia Power Company double-deck coach carrying the Tech High school band, and the chiefs of the police and fire departments. It arrived at Austell at 3:30 p.m. The motorcaders were met by cars from Carrollton, Austell and Douglasville—about equal in number to the procession of motorists from this city—and the long line of automobiles was reformed under the leadership of the car bearing Charles J. Shelverton, Mayor of Austell.

Visitors Welcomed.

Entering Austell, the Atlanta visitors were greeted by long lines of school children who stood with tiny American flags at their shoulders, while the citizens of Austell roared a welcoming wave of applause after passing through the main business section of the city, the motorcade proceeded to the reviewing stand at the baseball field, where the cars were parked in a great square, and the exercises began.

The visitors were welcomed to the city. Mayor Shelverton, who in a brief speech, declared that opening of the new stretch of paved highway between Austell and Atlanta served to bring closer those two communities. He expressed the hope that Atlantans would visit his community more frequently than ever before, and assured them of a hearty welcome.

Federal Supervision.

Congressman M. C. Carver, of the seventh district, who was in the capital address, asserted it was his ultimate hope to see the federal government take over and maintain such highways as the Bankhead route. He declared that while at present there exists more or less widespread opposition to the idea of sole maintenance of the highway by the federal government, it was his belief, not unlikely that in future such highways as the Bankhead route, which are used to a great extent by motorists from other states, would be maintained by the government.

J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads Association, in his address, traced the history of the Bankhead highway, calling that only 14 years ago the first stretch of the famous roadway had been built. Although at first intended only to stretch through Alabama and Georgia, he said, it now reaches from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Birmingham, and thence on to the Pacific coast. The newly opened stretch between the river and Austell marked the beginning, he said, of one of the most direct and safest highways in the United States.

Congressman Robert W. Ramspeck, of the first district, pointed out that a large part of the funds necessary for the construction of the eight-mile paved stretch had been raised by taxation in the south congressional district. Other speakers were Luther H. Stiles, of Anniston, president of the Birmingham-Austell Bankhead Highway Association; John S. Turner, highway commissioner of Alabama; Captain J. W. Barnett, of the Georgia